Architecture Between Spectacle And Use Clark Studies In The Visual Arts:

Architecture Between Spectacle and Use Anthony Vidler, 2008 This volume examines the state of contemporary architecture worldwide and the ways in which it is caught between the art of display and the accommodation of use Is Architecture Art? John Macarthur, 2024-10-31 Is architecture an art like literature or music Or is it more akin to science or engineering Can buildings be artworks just like paintings and sculptures or does their fundamentally functional nature mean they cannot be considered pure works of art Questions of architecture art and aesthetics do not allow for simple answers But by asking such questions we can usefully reveal the ways in which the concepts and meanings of architecture have changed over the centuries and how they continue to change in the contemporary era Is Architecture Art explores the key conceptual questions about the aesthetic appreciation of architecture and its persistently contested status as an artform It engages the work of thinkers ranging from Hume and Kant to Adorno Tafuri and Ranciere and draws on accessible and thought provoking accounts of historical and contemporary architectural and art theory Taking novel approaches to issues that will be familiar to the practising architect it shows how aesthetics and art theory can open up and illuminate architectural theory issue by issue Is Architecture Art will provoke discussion and debate among architects and architectural theorists and force a new understanding of the purpose of architectural practice in the contemporary era as the concepts of art the arts and of the creative economy have shifted and blurred as never before The Beach Beneath the Street McKenzie Wark, 2015-04-03 Over fifty years after the Situationist International appeared its legacy continues to inspire activists artists and theorists around the world Such a legend has accrued to this movement that the story of the SI now demands to be told in a contemporary voice capable of putting it into the context of twenty first century struggles McKenzie Wark delves into the Situationists unacknowledged diversity revealing a world as rich in practice as it is in theory Tracing the group s development from the bohemian Paris of the 50s to the explosive days of May 68 Wark s take on the Situationists is biographically and historically rich presenting the group as an ensemble creation rather than the brainchild and dominion of its most famous member Guy Debord Roaming through Europe and the lives of those who made up the movement including Constant Asger Jorn Michle Bernstein Alex Trocchi and Jacqueline De Jong Wark uncovers an international movement riven with conflicting passions Accessible to those who have only just discovered the Situationists and filled with new insights The Beach Beneath the Street rereads the group s history in the light of our contemporary experience of communications architecture and everyday life The Situationists tried to escape the world of twentieth century spectacle and failed in the attempt Wark argues that they may still help us to escape the twenty first century while we still can Leaving The Twentieth Century McKenzie Wark, 2024-08-20 The acclaimed history of the groundbreaking Situationist movement The Situationist International which leaped to the fore during the Paris tumult of 1968 has extended its revolutionary influence right up to the present day In Leaving the Twentieth Century the movement is captured for the first time in its full range and diversity McKenzie Wark traces the group's development from the bohemian Paris of the 50s to the explosive days of May 68. She introduces the group as an ensemble revealing the work and activities of thinkers previously obscured by the reputation of founding member Guy Debord. Roaming through Europe and exploring the vital lives of its members including Constant Asger Jorn, Michel Bernstein, Alexander Trocchi, and Jacqueline de Jong, Wark uncovers a group riven with conflicting passions. She follows the narrative beyond 1968 to the Situationists International's disintegration and beyond the ideas of T. J. Clark, the Fourierist utopia of Raoul Vaneigem, Ren Vignet's earthy situationist cinema, Gianfranco Sanguinetti's pranking of the Italian ruling class, Alice Becker-Ho's account of the anonymous language of the Romany, and Debord's late films and his surprising work as a game designer.

Street-by-Street Retrofit Mike McEvoy, 2024-12-16 For many years it has been recognised that improving the energy performance of the existing housing stock is vital if energy demand is to be reduced to combat climate change. The art of retrofit is posited as a way forward beyond today's weak pseudo-Modernist architecture, all that is left the final echo of Modernism's original utopian impulse. Central to the book is the presentation of domestic street-by-street retrofit as an issue with technical, financial, and societal dimensions. A holistic view of the complex interacting factors that have held back any advance is interspersed with a historical account of retrofit's faltering progress over the last 20 years. The crucial challenges that have been encountered are described, including the technological and human factors that urgently need to be addressed. It is suggested that the utopian instincts that propelled early Modernism can be redeployed in finding an approach to retrofit that will pave the way towards a politically engaged architecture of social purpose. Street-by-Street Retrofit's goal is to involve the creative imagination of designers and form an alliance with policymakers and many others in the business of urban improvement; it is intended for all these audiences.

Architecture and the Image at the Turn of the 21st Century Sanja Rodeš, 2024-06-28 This book examines architecture, image, and media relationships as productive for architecture and architectural discourses. By arguing that the relationships between architecture and media cannot be dismissed via linear criticism of architecture and media or image, these relations are instead seen as a part of a sphere, a mediasphere of complex relationships. In lieu of anything like a consensus on the contemporary condition of architecture, referring to the late twentieth and the twenty-first centuries, the starting point of this book is that the relationships between architecture, media, and images continue to multiply owing to continuous technological advancements. Contemporary architecture considered in this book is related to the selected circumstances of high visibility where architectural images are propelled into visibility and conflated with non-architectural images. This takes architecture outside of architectural-only discourse and into the public realm. By granting higher visibility to both the architectural images and architecture in the public realm, architecture can also be influenced by the various perceptions of the general public and can enter public consciousness via non-architectural media. With increased visibility, architecture's far-reaching presence calls for more structured analysis of its nature and potential. As the analysed architecture in this book is associated with the discourses outside of architecture some of which relate to terrorism natural disaster and branding and consumption the limits of contemporary architectural discipline are questioned and extended This book is written for academics and students in architectural history theory and criticism particularly those interested in visual and media studies Non-Standard Architectural Productions Sandra Karina Löschke, 2019-07-30 This book captures concepts and projects that reshape the discipline of architecture by prioritizing people over buildings In doing so it uncovers sophisticated approaches that go beyond standard architectural protocols to explore experience based aesthetics encounters action based research critical practices and social engagement If these are widely understood as singular or incompatible approaches the book reveals that they form a growing network of interrelations and generate levels of flexibility and dynamism that are reshaping the discipline The thirteen chapters analyze thought provoking projects branded museums restaged exhibitions home work spaces multi cultural spaces ageing apartment blocks abandoned homes and urban slums amongst them Together they enliven the stalled debate about a single architectural response to the complex challenges of the contemporary world by highlighting pluralistic perspectives on architecture that offer fresh solutions on how architecture can improve people's lives Featuring essays from an international range of authors this book makes a vital contribution to our understanding of the wider conditions under which and in relation to which contemporary architecture is produced The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History Duanfang Lu, 2023-07-31 The Routledge Companion to Contemporary Architectural History offers a comprehensive and up to date knowledge report on recent developments in architectural production and research Divided into three parts Practices Interrogations and Innovations this book charts diversity criticality and creativity in architectural interventions to meet challenges and enact changes in different parts of the world through featured exemplars and fresh theoretical orientations The collection features 29 chapters written by leading architectural scholars and highlights the reciprocity between the historical and the contemporary research and practice and disciplinary and professional knowledge Providing an essential map for navigating the complex currents of contemporary architecture the Companion will interest students academics and practitioners who wish to bolster their understanding of built environments Perspective, Projections and Design Mario Carpo, Frédérique Lemerle, 2013-04-15 The essays selected for this book presented in chronological order discuss various aspects of image making technologies geometrical knowledge and tools for architectural design focusing in particular on two historical periods marked by comparable patterns of technological and cultural change The first is the Renaissance characterized by the rediscovery of linear perspectives and the simultaneous rise of new formats for architectural drawing and design on paper the second the contemporary rise of digital technologies and the simultaneous rise of virtual reality and computer based design and manufacturing Many of the contributing authors explore the parallel between the invention of the perspectival paradigm in early modern Europe and the recent development of digitized virtual reality This issue in turn bears on the specific purposes of architectural design where various representational tools and devices are used to visualize bi dimensional aspects of objects that must be measured and eventually built in three dimensional space The Grove Encyclopedia of Medieval Art and Architecture Colum Hourihane, 2012 This volume offers unparalleled coverage of all aspects of art and architecture from medieval Western Europe from the 6th century to the early 16th century Drawing upon the expansive scholarship in the celebrated Grove Dictionary of Art and adding hundreds of new entries it offers students researchers and the general public a reliable up to date and convenient resource covering this field of major importance in the development of Western history and international art and architecture
