Architecture Since 1400:

Architecture since 1400 Kathleen James-Chakraborty, 2014-01-01 The first global history of architecture to give equal attention to Western and non Western structures and built landscapes Architecture since 1400 is unprecedented in its range approach and insight From Tenochtitlan s Great Pyramid in Mexico City and the Duomo in Florence to Levittown s suburban tract housing and the Bird s Nest Stadium in Beijing its coverage includes the world s most celebrated structures and spaces along with many examples of more humble vernacular buildings Lavishly illustrated with more than 300 photographs plans and interiors this book presents key moments and innovations in architectural modernity around the globe Deftly integrating architectural and social history Kathleen James Chakraborty pays particular attention to the motivations of client and architect in the design and construction of environments both sacred and secular palaces and places of worship as well as such characteristically modern structures as the skyscraper the department store and the cinema She also focuses on the role of patrons and addresses to an unparalleled degree the impact of women in commissioning creating and inhabiting the built environment with Gertrude Jekyll Lina Bo Bardi and Zaha Hadid taking their place beside Brunelleschi Sinan and Le Corbusier Making clear that visionary architecture has never been the exclusive domain of the West and recognizing the diversity of those responsible for commissioning designing and constructing buildings Architecture since 1400 provides a sweeping cross cultural history of the built environment over six centuries Modernity Beyond the West: A Review of Kathleen James-Chakraborty's Architecture Since 1400 Rixt Hoekstra, 2017 Valences of Historiography Gevork Hartoonian, 2024-12-30 The compiled essays offer various themes and ways of approaching historiography Each chapter probes the state of contemporary theorization of architecture histories working toward the theme of critically re writing history Essential to each author s contribution are specific traditions created by the mole of history burrowing through the past This book concerns the historian s conjectures towards capturing the past and present zeitgeist Temporality is the theme running through the narrative of this volume It raises the question of whether the ever growing body of work on architectural history should be considered as history More specifically what is the intersection between history and architectural history Furthermore can every text focused on architecture s past be considered categorically historiographic In what capacity does architectural history index history beyond contingencies and without reducing the text to empirical realities and the historian s interest in a specific subject including those collected through archival research itself an emblem of textuality This book upholds the conviction that the past should be recalled accurately and that there is no history but historical criticism the scope of which exceeds the historicity of Humanism Dialectically the timeline experienced across contemporary techno economic and cultural domains aesthetics offers an opportunity to explore architecture produced outside the Euro American continents Valences of Historiography offers a fresh take on architectural history that is useful for academics researchers and architecture students Spatial Theories for the Americas Fernando Luiz Lara, 2024-11-19

To study the built environment of the Americas is to wrestle with an inherent contradiction. While the disciplines of architecture, urban design, landscape and planning share the fundamental belief that space and place matter, the overwhelming majority of canonical knowledge and the vernacular used to describe these disciplines comes from another very different continent. With this book, Fernando Luiz Lara discusses several theories of space drawing on cartography, geography, anthropology and mostly architecture and proposes counterweights to five centuries of Eurocentrism. The first part of Spatial Theories for the Americas offers a critique of Eurocentrism in the discipline of architecture, problematizing its theoretical foundation in relation to the inseparability of modernization and colonization. The second part makes explicit the insufficiencies of a hegemonic Western tradition at the core of spatial theories by discussing a long list of authors who have thought about the Americas. To overcome centuries of Eurocentrism, Lara concludes, will require a tremendous effort, but nonetheless we have the responsibility of looking at the built environment of the Americas through our own lenses. Spatial Theories for the Americas proposes a fundamental step in that direction.

What Architecture Means Denise Costanzo, 2015-07-24. What Architecture Means introduces you to architecture and allows you to explore the connections between design ideas and values across time, space and culture. It equips you to play an active and informed role in architecture, either as a professional or as a consumer, client and citizen. By analyzing famous and everyday buildings while presenting and questioning the positions of important architects and theorists, this book will help you to evaluate and decide what qualities, ideas and values you believe are important in architecture. You will learn how various definitions of architecture establish different relationships with all buildings and even non-buildings. How buildings express and accommodate ideas of the sacred, the family and the community. What an architect is and what priorities they bring to design and construction. How an architect's expertise relates to that of the engineer and why these are distinct disciplines. About values like beauty, originality, structural expression and cultural memory and their purpose in architectural design. About the interests and ethical values that architects and architecture serves and promotes. Topics include sacred spaces, the house, the city, architects and engineers, aesthetics and design, originality and method, technology and form, memory and identity and power and politics.

Debating German Cultural Identity Since 1989 Kathleen James-Chakraborty, Linda Shortt, 2011. Interdisciplinary views of the debates over and transformation of German cultural identity since unification. The events of 1989 and German unification were seismic historical moments. Although 1989 appeared to signify a healing of the war-torn history of the twentieth century, unification posed the question of German cultural identity afresh. Politicians, historians, writers, filmmakers, architects and the wider public engaged in memory contests over such questions as the legitimacy of alternative biographies, West German hegemony and the normalization of German history. This dynamic, contested and still ongoing transformation of German cultural identity is the topic of this volume of new essays by scholars from the United Kingdom, Germany, the United States and Ireland. It explores German cultural identity by way of a range of disciplines.

including history film studies architectural history literary criticism memory studies and anthropology avoiding a homogenized interpretation Charting the complex and often contradictory processes of cultural identity formation the volume reveals the varied responses that continue to accompany the project of unification Contributors Pertti Ahonen Aleida Assmann Elizabeth Boa Peter Fritzsche Anne Fuchs Deniz Gökçek Kathleen James Chakraborty Anja K.
