Cooperative Localization and Navigation Chao Gao, Guorong Zhao, Hassen Fourati, 2019-08-21 This book captures the latest results and techniques for cooperative localization and navigation drawn from a broad array of disciplines It provides the reader with a generic and comprehensive view of modeling strategies and state estimation methodologies in that fields It discusses the most recent research and novel advances in that direction exploring the design of algorithms and architectures benefits and challenging aspects as well as a potential broad array of disciplines including wireless communication indoor localization robotics emergency rescue motion analysis etc

Advanced Mobile Robotics DaeEun Kim, 2020-03-06 Mobile robotics is a challenging field with great potential It covers disciplines including electrical engineering mechanical engineering computer science cognitive science and social science It is essential to the design of automated robots in combination with artificial intelligence vision and sensor technologies Mobile robots are widely used for surveillance guidance transportation and entertainment tasks as well as medical applications This Special Issue intends to concentrate on recent developments concerning mobile robots and the research surrounding them to enhance studies on the fundamental problems observed in the robots Various multidisciplinary approaches and integrative contributions including navigation learning and adaptation networked system biologically inspired robots and cognitive methods are welcome contributions to this Special Issue both from a research and an application perspective The Brain

from Inside Out G. Buzsáki, 2019 Gy rgy Buzs ki s The Brain from Inside Out examines why the outside in framework for understanding brain function have become stagnant and points to new directions for understanding neural function Building upon the success of Rhythms of the Brain Professor Buzs ki presents the brain as a foretelling device that interacts with its environment through action and the examination of action s consequence Consider that our brains are initially filled with nonsense patterns all of which are gibberish until grounded by action based interactions By matching these nonsense words to the outcomes of action they acquire meaning Once its circuits are calibrated by action and experience the brain can disengage from its sensors and actuators and examine what happens if scenarios by peeking into its own computation a process that we refer to as cognition

Autonomous Underwater Vehicles Nuno Cruz,2011-10-21 Autonomous Underwater Vehicles AUVs are remarkable machines that revolutionized the process of gathering ocean data Their major breakthroughs resulted from successful developments of complementary technologies to overcome the challenges associated with autonomous operation in harsh environments Most of these advances aimed at reaching new application scenarios and decreasing the cost of ocean data collection by reducing ship time and automating the process of data gathering with accurate geo location With the present capabilities some novel paradigms are already being employed to further exploit the on board intelligence by making decisions on line based on real time interpretation of sensor data This book collects a set of self contained chapters covering different aspects of AUV technology and applications in more detail than is commonly found in journal and conference papers They are divided into three main sections addressing innovative vehicle design navigation and control techniques and mission preparation and analysis The progress conveyed in these chapters is inspiring providing glimpses into what might be the future for vehicle technology and applications
