

OF MICE AND MEN STUDY GUIDE!

- The chapter begins with a vivid description of the story's setting, which takes place by a river with sycamore trees and introduces the two main characters, George and Lennie. George is depicted as a small man with restless eyes and sharp features, while Lennie is described as a huge man with pale eyes and wide shoulders, who is the complete opposite of George.
- It becomes apparent that George is responsible for taking care of Lennie, who seems to forget things easily. George cooks for both of them, warns Lennie not to drink the pool water, and informs him that his aunt is dead and he has no one else to care for him.
- George feels that Lennie is holding him back from living his life and mentions that he could have a girl and live easily if he didn't have to take care of him. Lennie likes petting mice, but George doesn't approve, and he frequently takes them away from him. Despite this, Lennie is devoted to George and offers to leave him when he overhears George complaining about him.
- Although George treats Lennie harshly at times, he still takes care of him and watches out for him. The relationship between the two characters seems to be one of codependency, with George feeling responsible for Lennie's well-being.
- The chapter raises several questions, such as how George and Lennie met, what happened to Aunt Clara, and why George is responsible for taking care of Lennie. Lennie's forgetfulness is also intriguing, and it is unclear whether he was born with it or if something happened to him to make him that way.
- Finally, the recurring story about the rabbits seems to be a source of hope for Lennie, and it is likely that it will play a significant role in the story's development.
- The frequent use of the n-word by the characters in this chapter may be uncomfortable for some readers, as it was a common term used by white people during that time period.
- Although George is not related to Lennie, he is responsible for taking care of him. It is unclear how the two men met and how George became Lennie's caretaker.
- While Lennie was not actually kicked in the head by a horse, he does have memory problems that are not fully explained in the text.
- George's comments about shooting himself if he were related to Lennie are problematic and reflect his frustration with taking care of someone with Lennie's disabilities. However, it is important to recognize that his behavior towards Lennie is not entirely abusive and he does care for him in his own way.
