Bridgestone Learnerships:

Tailored Learning Jennifer Hofmann, Nanette Minor, 2009-05-01 You have a bewildering array of choices when it comes to designing and delivering effective training programs And these options are even more daunting when you consider the ever increasing pace of change the availability of many new teaching technologies and the realities of working in a diverse global economy With so many decisions to make designing an effective learning experience that meets individual and organizational needs can be difficult In Tailored Learning Design the Blend That Fits learn about the pros and cons of various training options in the context of a detailed case study that follows a design team you and the authors through the development of a blended learning solution for ABC Company From examining the organization s business goals and training needs through considering individual objectives and managerial considerations this real life example walks you through the process of selecting an ideal combination of training options for a specific scenario Becoming a More Versatile Learner Center for Creative Leadership (CCL), Maxine A. Dalton, 2011-07-26 Almost all managers regard job experiences and the lessons they provide essential for their development as leaders But not all of those managers are successful at learning those lessons That difficulty is often related to a manager s relying too much on one preferred learning tactic a tactic that might not be suited for gleaning the lessons of a particular job experience By increasing the number of learning tactics and becoming a more versatile learner managers can better position themselves to take advantage of the lessons that job experiences offer and contribute to their leadership development The New Learning Architect Clive Shepherd, 2011 We are all learning machines constantly adapting to the ever changing threats and opportunities with which we are confronted We learn through experience whether consciously or unconsciously we learn by seeking out the knowledge and skills we need to carry out our day to day tasks we learn by sharing experiences and best practice with our colleagues and by taking advantage of opportunities for development both formal and informal The new learning architect designs environments that enable specific target populations to take maximum advantage of all these opportunities for learning To do this they need to understand the unique characteristics of their clients and the business challenges they are facing they need to find just the right balance between top down and bottom up learning initiatives between the formal and informal The new learning architect is at the vanguard of the next generation of learning and development professionals taking advantage of the latest tools technologies and thinking to help organisations meet the acute financial time and environmental pressures of the 21st century Publisher website Learning Through Practice Stephen Billett, 2010-06-02 Practice based learning the kind of education that comes from experiencing real work in real situations has always been a prerequisite to qualification in professions such as medicine However there is growing interest in how practice based models of learning can assist the initial preparation for and further development of skills for a wider range of occupations Rather than being seen as a tool of first time training it is now viewed as a potentially important facet of professional development and life long learning This book provides perspectives on practice based learning from a range of disciplines and fields of work The collection here draws on a wide spectrum of perspectives to illustrate as well as to critically appraise approaches to practice based learning The book s two sections first explore the conceptual foundations of learning through practice and then provide detailed examples of its implementation Long standing practice based approaches to learning have been used in many professions and trades Indeed admission to the trades and major professions e g medicine law accountancy can only be realised after completing extended periods of practice in authentic practice settings However the growing contemporary interest in using practice based learning in more extensive contexts has arisen from concerns about the direct employability of graduates and the increasing focus on occupation specific courses in both vocations and higher education It is an especially urgent issue in an era of critical skill shortages rapidly transforming work requirements and an aging workforce combined with a looming shortage of new workforce entrants We must better understand how existing models of practice based learning are enacted in order to identify how they can be applied to different kinds of employment and workplaces The contributions to this volume explore ways in which learning through practice can be conceptualised enacted and appraised through an analysis of the traditions purposes and processes that support this learning including curriculum models and pedagogic practices

Return on Learning Donald Vanthournout, 2009-01-02 Now in paperback the inside story on how global business leader Accenture s investments in learning and knowledge management could be planned and managed to deliver measurable business advantage Apprenticeship: Towards a New Paradigm of Learning Patrick Ainley, Helen Rainbird, 2014-05-12 In the light of changes the government has launched as part of its welfare to work initiatives this text explores apprenticeship The authors set the historical context and discuss the theoretical and practical aspects of acquiring the necessary knowledge and skills for competence Becoming a Learner in the Workplace Mark Wareing, 2015-09 Camelot Learning -

Training Camelot Learning, 1999 Understanding Applied Learning Tanya Ovenden-Hope, Sonia Blandford, 2017 Functional skills What are functional skills How should we teach functional skills Health and safety for applied learning Summary 6 Creativity in applied learning Why is creativity important Creativity in applied learning The creative teacher as researcher Action research Summary 7 Reflective learning and self evaluation in practice Reflective learning Self evaluation A model for self evaluation Monitoring Evaluation Summary Conclusion Glossary Index Identity, Pedagogy and Technology-enhanced Learning Selena Chan, 2020-02-24 This book gathers work from over a decade of study and seeks to better understand and support how learners become tradespeople The research programme applies recent concepts from neuroscience educational psychology and technology enhanced learning to explain and help overcome the challenges of learning in trades learning contexts Due to the complex and multifarious nature of the work characterising trade occupations learning how to become a tradesperson requires a significant commitment in terms of time along with physical and cognitive effort All modalities visual aural haptic etc and literacies text numerical spatial etc are required when undertaking trade work Manual dexterity and strength coupled with the technical and tacit knowledge required for complex problem solving not to mention suitable dispositional approaches must all be learnt and focused on becoming a tradesperson However there is a substantial gap in the literature on how people learn a trade and how to teach a trade In this book contemporary teaching and learning approaches and strategies as derived through practice based participatory research are used to highlight and discuss pragmatic solutions to facilitate the learning and teaching of trade skills knowledge and dispositions The approaches and strategies discussed include the implementation of technology enhanced learning project based inquiry problem based learning and recommendations to ensure learners are prepared for the future of work

Embracing the Beat of Appearance: An Emotional Symphony within Bridgestone Learnerships

In some sort of eaten by screens and the ceaseless chatter of quick transmission, the melodic beauty and psychological symphony produced by the prepared word often disappear into the backdrop, eclipsed by the constant sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, set within the pages of Bridgestone Learnerships a stunning literary value overflowing with organic emotions, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by a masterful composer of language, that charming masterpiece conducts visitors on an emotional trip, skillfully unraveling the hidden songs and profound influence resonating within each cautiously constructed phrase.
