students and other users with disabilities is an ever increasing phenomenon speeded up by innovative communities and the daily advances of new technologies Information professionals are supposed to have a moral responsibility to ensure that all patrons have access to library information resources Libraries should not offer discriminatory services against patrons on grounds of disability and should ensure that every patron has equal access to library information materials However nondiscriminatory services remain an ideal rather than the norm for some libraries as some patrons with disabilities are still underserved in terms of access to library information resources Environmental physical legal and institutional barriers are some of the factors that limit people with disabilities from social inclusion and these together with negative attitudes are the hardest to overcome
