A Reader On Punishment Oxford Readings In Socio Legal Studies:

A Reader on Punishment Antony Duff, 1994 Why we punish who we punish and how we punish are central elements of any discussion of the role of law in modern society In this impressive collection two leading experts on the theory of punishment have selected a range of articles which have made important and influential contributions to the way in which punishment is understood in contemporary society The collection is prefaced by an original introduction written by the two editors in which key concepts are identified Each article is also prefaced by a short introduction setting out the issues to be discussed Throughout the book the aim of the editors is to demonstrate that normative and empirical questions about punishment are deeply interrelated and to show the importance of an interdisciplinary approach to understanding this vital social institution

Punishment, 2016 Sentencing and Society Cyrus Tata, Neil Hutton, 2017-03-02 Combining the latest work of leading sentencing and punishment scholars from twelve different countries this major new international volume answers key questions in the study of sentencing and society It presents not only a rigorous examination of the latest legal and empirical research from around the world but also reveals the workings of sentencing within society and as a social practice Traditionally work in the field of sentencing has been dominated by legal and philosophical approaches Distinctively this volume provides a more sociological approach to sentencing so allowing previously unanswered questions to be addressed and new questions to be opened This extensive collection is drawn from around one third of the papers presented at the First International Conference on Sentencing and Society Almost without exception the chapters have been revised cross referenced and updated The overall themes and findings of the international volume are set out by the opening Introduction and the closing Reflections chapters Research findings on particular penal policy questions are balanced with an analysis of fundamental conceptual issues making this international volume essential reading for sentencing and punishment scholars criminal justice policy makers and graduate students The Interface of Science, Theology, and Religion Dennis Ngien, 2019-03-07 In celebration of Alister E McGrath s sixty fifth birthday in 2018 this Festschrift aims to highlight him as a lauded scholar who exemplifies an interface of science theology and religion It comprises works by McGrath s theological allies and colleagues from diverse ecclesial homes including Graham Ward Oliver Crisp Tony Lane Sung Wook Chung Randall Zachman Veli Matti K rkk inen Jonathan Wilson Jeffrey P Greenman Robert Kolb Sister Benedicta Ward Michael Lloyd Bethany Sollereder and Patrick Franklin Critical but appreciative is the posture with which these contributors engage the wide range of McGrath s own scholarly pursuits and publications This volume edited by Dennis Ngien covers these themes that are central to the life and witness of the church atonement Christology Trinity eschatology mission Reformation science nature culture evangelism and theodicy there is much to ponder and reap here Readers will join with the contributors and pay tribute to McGrath who has risen to a life of significance as a scientist turned theologian professor author Christian apologist and churchman War as Protection and Punishment Teresa Degenhardt, 2023-09-15 This book provides an analysis of how penal discourses are used to legitimate post Cold War military interventions through three main case studies Kosovo Iraq and Libya These cases reveal the operation of diverse modalities of punishment in extending the ambit of international liberal governance The argument starts from an analysis of these discourses to trace the historical arc in which military interventions have increasingly been launched through reference to both the human rights discourse and humanitarian sentiments and a desire to punish the perpetrators The book continues with the analysis of practices involved in the post intervention phase looking at the ways in which states have been established as modes of governance Kosovo how punitive atmospheres have animated soldiers violence in the conduct of war Iraq and finally how interventions can expand moral control and a system of devolved surveillance in conjunction with both border control and the engagement of the International Criminal Court Libya In all these case tensions and ambiguities emerge These practices underscore how punitive intents were also present in the expansion of liberal governance demonstrating how the rhetoric of punishment was useful in legitimating Western state powers and recomposing the borders of the liberal world at the periphery War as Protection and Punishment ends with a number of critical comments on the diffusion of punitive discourse in the international arena considering how issues of crime and justice have also animated at least in part the current engagement with the Russian invasion of Ukraine An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology politics and those interested in how penal discourses are used to legitimize military conventions

The Passions of Law Susan Bandes,2000-01-01 The Passions of Law is the first anthology to treat the role that emotions play don t play and ought to play in the practice and conception of law and justice Lying at the intersection of law psychology and philosophy this emergent field of law scholarship raises some of the most profound and interesting questions at the heart of jurisprudence For example what role do emotions ranging from disgust to compassion play in the decision making processes of judges lawyers juries and clients What emotions belong in which legal contexts Is there a hierarchy of emotions and if so through what sources do we identify it To what extent are emotions subject to change or tutelage How can we evaluate the role of emotion in such disparate contexts as death sentencing laws about same sex marriage hate crime legislation punitive damages or shaming penalties Consisting of original essays by leading scholars of law theology political science and philosophy The Passions of Law contributes to ongoing efforts to humanize law and reveals how this previously unacknowledged aspect of decision making exerts a much greater impact on justice and the practice of law than most tend or like to think Learn more about Susan Bandes Is the Death Penalty Dying? Austin Sarat,2008-01-18 Drawing together an array of distinguished scholars from political science criminology sociology and law this volume examines the death penalty in the US The Art of Legislating Virgilio Zapatero Gómez,2019-10-11 Any contemporary state presents itself as committed to the rule of law and this notion is perhaps the most powerful political ideal within the current global discourse on legal and political institutions Despite being a contested concept the rule of law is generally recognised as meaning that government is bound in all its actions by fixed and public rules and that these rules respect certain formal requirements and are enforced by an independent judiciary This book focuses on formal legality and the question of how to achieve good laws a topic that was famously addressed by the 18th century enlightened thinkers but also by prominent legal scholars of our time Historically the canon of good legislation demanded generality publicity and accessibility and comprehensibility of laws non retroactivity consistency the possibility of complying with legal obligations and prohibitions stability and congruency between enacted laws and their application All these are valuable ideals that should not be abandoned in today s legal systems particularly in view of the silent revolution that is transforming our legality based states of law into jurisdictional states Such ideals are still worth pursuing for those who believe in representative democracy in the rule of law and in the dignity of legislation The idea for the book stemmed from the author s parliamentary and governmental experience he was responsible for the Government of Spain s legislative co ordination from 1982 to 1993 which were years of intensive legislative production The more than five hundred laws and thousands of decrees elaborated in this period profoundly changed all sectors of the legal order inherited from Franco s dictatorship and laid the foundations of a new social and democratic system For an academic this was an exciting experience which offered a unique opportunity to put the theory of legislation to the test Reflecting and elaborating on this experience the book not only increases scholarly awareness of how laws are made but above all improves the quality of legislation and as a result the rule of law
