The text gives a history of Judith Butler's theory of performativity and the uptake of that theory in literary criticism and also provides detailed close reading of Gaskell's fiction both frequently examined texts like Cranford Mary Barton and Wives and Daughters and some that are less often studied such as Lizzie Leigh and Cousin Phillis. The book argues that as theory becomes naturalized into the vocabulary of literary scholars it often becomes more optimistic and less specific. In discussing the naturalization of theory exemplified by the application of performativity to Gaskell the book advances general principles on the use of theory. It can be read as scholarship or used as a textbook in literary methods courses. The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2009 Articulating Bodies Kylee-Anne Hingston, 2019 Articulating Bodies shows how Victorian fiction's narrative form as well as narrative theme to negotiate how to categorize bodies both constructing and
