Body And Mind Are One A Training In Mindfulness:

Self-Organization in the Nervous System Yan M. Yufik, Biswa Sengupta, Karl Friston, 2017-11-30 This special issue reviews state of the art approaches to the biophysical roots of cognition These approaches appeal to the notion that cognitive capacities serve to optimize responses to changing external conditions Crucially this optimisation rests on the ability to predict changes in the environment thus allowing organisms to respond pre emptively to changes before their onset The biophysical mechanisms that underwrite these cognitive capacities remain largely unknown although a number of hypotheses has been advanced in systems neuroscience biophysics and other disciplines These hypotheses converge on the intersection of thermodynamic and information theoretic formulations of self organization in the brain The latter perspective emerged when Shannon s theory of message transmission in communication systems was used to characterise message passing between neurons In its subsequent incarnations the information theory approach has been integrated into computational neuroscience and the Bayesian brain framework The thermodynamic formulation rests on a view of the brain as an aggregation of stochastic microprocessors neurons with subsequent appeal to the constructs of statistical mechanics and thermodynamics In particular the use of ensemble dynamics to elucidate the relationship between micro scale parameters and those of the macro scale aggregation the brain In general the thermodynamic approach treats the brain as a dissipative system and seeks to represent the development and functioning of cognitive mechanisms as collective capacities that emerge in the course of self organization Its explicanda include energy efficiency enabling progressively more complex cognitive operations such as long term prediction and anticipatory planning A cardinal example of the Bayesian brain approach is the free energy principle that explains self organizing dynamics in the brain in terms of its predictive capabilities and selective sampling of sensory inputs that optimise variational free energy as a proxy for Bayesian model evidence An example of thermodynamically grounded proposals in this issue associates self organization with phase transitions in neuronal state spaces resulting in the formation of bounded neuronal assemblies neuronal packets This special issue seeks a discourse between thermodynamic and informational formulations of the self organising and self evidencing brain For example could minimization of thermodynamic free energy during the formation of neuronal packets underlie minimization of variational free energy

Brain-Mind-Body Practice and Health Yi-Yuan Tang, 2018-01-09 It is acknowledged that practice could induce rapid change or reorganization of the brain s cellular or neural networks as well as behaviors Notably practice relevant to mental or physical approach attracted great attention in this decade It highlights profound significance both for human evolvment and individual development Specifically acquiring fine motor skills is a crucial premise for human being to evolve to modern human by using tools in one side In the other side numerous evidences indicated that motor learning involved in limb and trunks promotes the development of individual brain in anatomy and functions Hence motor learning is also tightly associated with developmental plasticity These studies on brain mind body practice illuminate a promising way in promoting human brain health This editorial covers wide range of brain mind body practice forms to summarize recent new findings and development from behavioral physiological neurobiological and psychological science approaches In this research topic we addressed recent findings from theoretical as well as experimental perspective including contributions under the following three headings 1 intervention studies to investigate the positive effect of brain mind body practice on cognition and relevant brain mechanism The intervention pattern consisted of short term practice ranging from few hours to several weeks 2 cross sectional studies using expert novice paradigm to explore the behavioral and neural system change induced by extensive brain mind body practice 3 the mediators influence the relationship between practice and health outcomes and 4 new viewpoints on brain mind body practice from theoretical perspectives Here we briefly highlight these articles aiming to provide a deep understanding for the association between practice plasticity and health for readers Additionally it offers new insights for developing possible practice interventions for clinical treatment of neurological dysfunction or disorders
