Beirut Seizures Haas H. Mroue,1993-01-01 Beirut Seizures Haas H. Mroue,2012-01-04 On April 13 1975 four Phalangists were murdered during the attempted assassination of Pierre Jumayyil In a retaliation effort the Phalangists attacked a bus filled with Palestinian passengers killing twenty seven of the occupants And so began a civil war in Lebanon that would last sixteen years and take more than one hundred thousand lives In his posthumous collection of poetry Haas Mroue offers deeply moving lyrical verse that details his traumatic experiences as the chaos of the war in Lebanon engulfed his childhood as well as the experiences of the some nine hundred thousand who were forced to flee their homes Recalling how he helplessly witnessed rockets flying over rooftops and listened for names of the dead on the radio Haas relies on strong imagery as he shares how he lived through a war with no name and somehow managed to escape Beirut with nothing but his memories Originally written some twenty years after he fled the war the poetry in Beirut Seizures carefully examines difficult subjects and politically charged ideas with grace emotion and a strong voice making it a powerful statement about the impact of war on ordinary people A Photojournalist Kabul to Beirut Haas Hassib Mroue,2015 I've given my life to let the world know the truth But do they care Do they really want to know Olga is an international photojournalist determined to bring the reality of war to an unaware audience But when tragedy strikes on an assignment in Beirut she is forced to question the true value of her work and the real cost of human life This haunting and powerful screenplay from award winning writer Haas Mroue beautifully weaves the personal and the global to show how war touches us all Published here for the first time and based on his real life experience of growing up during the Lebanese Civil War Haas's screenplay is still just as pertinent now as when it was written The wars still continue even if the names have changed Articulations of Resistance Sirène H. Harb,2019-11-11 Using a theoretical framework located at the intersection of US ethnic studies transnational studies and postcolonial studies Articulations of Resistance Transformative Practices in Contemporary Arab American Poetry maps an interdisciplinary model of critical inquiry to demonstrate the intimate link and multilayered connections between poetry and resistance In this study of contemporary Arab American poetry Sirène Harb analyzes how resistance defined as the force challenging the dominant intervenes in ways of rethinking the local and the global vis vis traditional paradigms of time space language and value Contemporary Arab-American Literature Carol Fadda-Conrey,2014 The last couple of decades have witnessed a flourishing of Arab American literature across multiple genres Yet increased interest in this literature is ironically paralleled by a prevalent bias against Arabs and Muslims that portrays their long presence in the US as a recent and unwelcome phenomenon Spanning the 1990s to the present Carol Fadda-Conrey takes in the sweep of literary and cultural texts by Arab American writers in order to understand the ways in which their depictions of Arab homelands whether actual or imagined play a crucial role in shaping cultural articulations of US citizenship and belonging By asserting themselves within a US framework while maintaining connections to their homelands Arab Americans contest the blanket representations of themselves as dictated by the US nation state Deploying a multidisciplinary framework at the intersection of Middle Eastern studies US ethnic studies and diaspora studies Fadda Conrey argues for a transnational discourse that overturns the often rigid affiliations embedded in ethnic labels Tracing the shifts in transnational perspectives from the founders of Arab American literature like Gibran Kahlil Gibran and Ameen Rihani to modern writers such as Naomi Shihab Nye Joseph Geha Randa Jarrar and Suheir Hammad Fadda Conrey finds that contemporary Arab American writers depict strong yet complex attachments to the US landscape She explores how the idea of home is negotiated between immigrant parents and subsequent generations alongside analyses of texts that work toward fostering more nuanced understandings of Arab and Muslim identities in the wake of post 9 11 anti Arab sentiments

Youth Poets Korina M. Jocson, 2008 Counterpoints publishes the most compelling and imaginative books being written in education today Grounded on the theoretical advances in criticalism feminism and postmodernism in the last two decades of the twentieth century Counterpoints engages the meaning of these innovations in various forms of educational expression Committed to the proposition that theoretical literature should be accessible to a variety of audiences the series insists that its authors avoid esoteric and jargonistic languages that transform educational scholarship into an elite discourse for the initiated

Inclined to Speak Hayan Charara, 2008-03 At no other time in American history has our imagination been so engrossed with the Arab experience An indispensable and historic volume Inclined to Speak gathers together poems from the most important contemporary Arab American poets that shape and alter our understanding of this experience These poems also challenge us to reconsider what it means to be American Impressive in its scope this book provides readers with an astonishing array of poetic sensibilities touching on every aspect of the human condition Whether about culture politics loss art or language itself the poems here engage these themes with originality dignity and an unyielding need not only to speak but also to be heard Here are thirty nine poets offering up 160 poems Included in the anthology are Naomi Shihab Nye Samuel Hazo D H Melhem Lawrence Joseph Khaled Mattawa Mohja Khaf Matthew Shenoda Kazim Ali Nuar Alsadir Fady Joudah and Lisa Suhair Majaj Charara has written a lengthy introduction about the state of Arab American poetry in the country today and short biographies of the poets and provided an extensive list of further readings Etel Adnan Lisa

Suhair Majaj, Amal Amireh, 2015-10-02 This collection of essays concentrates on Arab American writer and artist Etel Adnan Up until now there has been no single volume dedicated to her work despite Adnan s increasing recognition and acclaim across the United States Europe and the Middle East The essays fall into two sections In the first the essays respond to the range of vision and experience in Adnan s writing and art through analysis and appreciation The second section focuses on responses to and interpretations of Sitt Marie Rose Adnan s well known novel about the Lebanese war As a whole the writings in this work seek to provide a comprehensive look at Adnan s literary and artistic accomplishments through analysis and close readings that place her texts within wider literary contexts Arab American Aesthetics Therí Pickens, 2018-01-19

Arab American Aesthetics enlists a wide range of voices to explore if not tentatively define what could constitute Arab American aesthetics in literature material culture film and theatre This book seeks to unsettle current conversations within Arab American Studies that neglect aesthetics as a set of choices and constraints Rather than divorce aesthetics from politics the book sutures the two more closely together by challenging the causal relationship so often attributed to them The conversations include formal choices but also extend to the broad idea of what makes a work distinctly Arab American That is what about its beauty ugliness sublimity or humor is explicitly tied to it as part of a tradition of Arab American arts The book opens up the ways that we discuss Arab American literary and fine arts so that we understand how Arab American identity and experience begets Arab American artistic enterprise Split into three sections the first offers a set of theoretical propositions for understanding aesthetics that traverse Arab American cultural production The second section focuses on material culture as a way to think through the creation of objects as an aesthetic enterprise The final section looks at narratives in theatre and how the impact of such a medium has the potential to recreate in both senses of the word play and invention By shifting the conversation from identity politics to the relationship between politics and aesthetics this book provides an important contribution to Arab American studies It will also appeal to students and scholars of ethnic studies museum studies and cultural studies
