Belles Of Liberty Gender Bennett College And The Civil Rights Movement:

Belles of Liberty Linda Beatrice Brown, 2013 The historic Greensboro North Carolina lunch counter Sit in on February 1 1960 is one of the most well known incidents in Civil Rights history This singular event was universally credited to four young men from North Carolina A T State University Significantly the integration of public accommodations of that city and many cities followed Belles of Liberty Gender Bennett College and the Civil Rights Movement recalls a more complete story illuminating what historians overlooked that the first Sit in in Greensboro was carefully planned on Bennett College s campus and without hundreds of women who sat down marched and were incarcerated from 1960 to 1963 the Sit in effort and subsequent desegregation of Greensboro and even other cities might not have succeeded Historically Black Colleges and Universities in a Globalizing World Sabella Ogbobode Abidde, Mohamed S. Camara, Alem Hailu, 2024-02-27 Historically Black Colleges and Universities were established to provide the opportunity for higher education to people of African descent in the era of segregation The visions values and heritages these schools embodied enabled them to chart new frontiers of learning scholarship and public engagement for and beyond the United States Historically Black Colleges and Universities in a Globalizing World The Past the Present and the Future edited by Alem Hailu Mohamed S Camara and Sabella O Abidde examines the history and contribution of these institutions in the broader national and global sociopolitical context of the changes taking place in the nation and the world Collectively the contributors offer reflections and visions by both looking back and forward to find viable answers to the challenges and opportunities HBCUs face in the new century and beyond They argue that as the world convulses by the new global dynamics of emerging pandemics economic dislocations and resource constraints HBCUs are uniquely positioned to meet these challenges The Life of Elreta Melton Alexander Virginia L. Summey, 2022-05-01 This book explores the life and contributions of groundbreaking attorney Elreta Melton Alexander Ralston 1919-98 In 1945 Alexander became the first African American woman to graduate from Columbia Law School In 1947 she was the first African American woman to practice law in the state of North Carolina and in 1968 she became the first African American woman to become an elected district court judge Despite her accomplishments Alexander is little known to scholars outside of her hometown of Greensboro North Carolina Her life and career deserve recognition however not just because of her impressive lists of firsts but also owing to her accomplishments during the civil rights movement in the U S South While Alexander did not actively participate in civil rights marches and demonstrations she used her professional achievements and middle class status to advocate for individuals who lacked a voice in the southern legal system Virginia L Summey argues that Alexander was integral to the civil rights movement in North Carolina as she and women like her worked to change discriminatory laws while opening professional doors for other minority women Using her professional status Alexander combatted segregation by demonstrating that Black women were worthy and capable of achieving careers alongside white men thereby creating environments in which other African Americans could succeed Her legal expertise and ability to reach across racial boundaries made her an important figure in Greensboro history

Have You Got Good Religion? AnneMarie Mingo,2024-03-26 What compels a person to risk her life to change deeply rooted systems of injustice in ways that may not benefit her The thousands of Black Churchwomen who took part in civil rights protests drew on faith courage and moral imagination to acquire the lived experiences at the heart of the answers to that question AnneMarie Mingo brings these forgotten witnesses into the historical narrative to explore the moral and ethical world of a generation of Black Churchwomen and the extraordinary liberation theology they created These women acted out of belief that what they did was bigger than themselves Taking as their goal nothing less than the moral transformation of American society they joined the movement because it was something they had to do Their personal accounts of a lived religion enacted in the world provide powerful insights into how faith steels human beings to face threats jail violence and seemingly implacable hatred Throughout Mingo draws on their experiences to construct an ethical model meant to guide contemporary activists in the ongoing pursuit of justice A depiction of moral imagination that resonates today Have You Got Good Religion reveals how Black Churchwomen s understanding of God became action and transformed a nation
