Brooklands Cradle Of British Motor Racing And Aviation Shire Library:

Brooklands Nicholas H Lancaster, 2009-10-20 Brooklands near Weybridge in Surrey holds a unique and highly important place in the histories of both motoring and aviation It was the first purpose built motor racing track in Britain and the first major circuit in the world From 1907 to the outbreak of the Second World War the banked circuit was the epicenter of British motor sport and events at Brooklands races and speed record attempts were an important part of the sporting and social calendar Motor sport was not the only activity for which Brooklands was famous however it became an important center for aviation The first flight of a British pilot in a British aircraft took place there in 1908 and Britain's first flying school was opened within the circuit in 1910 Several manufacturers began aircraft production at Brooklands and the most important of these Vickers took over large parts of the site when motor racing stopped in 1939 Many aircraft including the Wellington bomber were built here in large numbers during the war When peace returned in 1945 the race track at Brooklands was in poor condition and built over in places Racing never resumed but the aviation history of the site grew ever stronger with design and production of airliners including the VC 10 and Concorde Today Brooklands is home to a thriving museum and as the years pass more and more of the old track is being restored to its former glory This book tells the story of this unique and important site and conjures up the atmosphere of pre war race meetings of wartime aircraft production and the birth of some of the world's most famous aeroplanes

A Passion for Speed Paul Smiddy, 2017-09-01 The Honourable Mrs Victor Bruce record breaking racing motorist speedboat racer pioneering aviator and businesswoman remarkable achievements for a woman of the 1920s and 30s Mildred Bruce enjoyed a privileged background that allowed her to search for thrills beyond the bounds of most female contemporaries She raced against the greats at Brooklands drove 200 miles north of the Arctic Circle and won the first ladies prize at the Monte Carlo Rally Whilst Amy Johnson was receiving global acclaim for her flight to Australia Mildred learned to fly and a mere eight weeks later she embarked on a round the world flight becoming the first person to fly solo from the UK to Japan Captured by brigands and feted by the Siamese Japanese and Americans she survived several crashes with body and spirit intact and became a glittering aviation celebrity on her return A thoroughly modern woman she pushed similar boundaries in her unconventional love life and later became Britain's first female airline entrepreneur This is the story of a charismatic woman who defied the conventions of her time and loved living life in the fast lane

100 Years of Brooklands John Pulford, Allan Winn, 2007 Conceived and designed by Peter Campbell working in conjunction with top advertising photographer Ron Bambridge and the Brooklands Museum this profusely illustrated book celebrates the centenary of the world's first custom built motor racing circuit and home of British aviation In the pioneering days of driving competitive racing was banned on public roads in the United Kingdom British automobile manufacturers could only watch as their European counterparts such as Fiat Renault and Peugeot gained valuable publicity from city to city races held around the continent despite the inherent dangers To create a base for UK motor sport Hugh Fortescue Locke

King designed a circuit where cars could race in comparative safety In 1906 he set to work to build a huge concrete banked oval bowl 100 feet wide and more than two miles long on land he owned in Surrey This formidable engineering project was completed within 18 months and in 1907 Brooklands held its first race It remained in constant use until 1939 and the cars and drivers who competed there have passed into legend Huge powerful cars from companies such as Duesenberg Railton Lorraine Dietrich and Bentley and smaller cars from MG and Morgan all took part in long distance races and record breaking Pioneer drivers such as Malcolm Campbell Raymond Mays and J G Parry Thomas competed against fearless lady racers like Doreen Evans and Kay Petrie It was John Cobb at the wheel of his mighty Napier Railton that established the ultimate circuit record of 143.33mph The reputation of many motorcycle companies like Norton Ariel Zenith and Douglas were established due to their exploits at Brooklands Within the grounds of the concrete circuit hangars were built alongside a small runway From these buildings pioneer aviators Alliott Verdon Roe Tommy Sopwith and Harry Hawker founded the British aviation industry It became the home of the Vickers aircraft company and during WWII numerous aircraft such as the Wellington bomber were built at Brooklands and Barnes Wallis designed his infamous bouncing bomb In later years the circuit fell into disrepair but the production of aircraft continued from the launch of the first passenger services to the design and creation of much of the first supersonic aircraft Concorde The award winning photographs in this book record the design and engineering details of many of the cars bikes and aircraft that now form part of the famous Brooklands Museum from the very earliest examples to more recent Formula 1 cars that form part of the collection Shot in black and white these images evoke a memory of a unique period in the history of automobile and aircraft development and the unique race circuit that created its own niche in history Brooklands Museum ,1996 Brooklands David Venables,2007-07-01 Brooklands in its centenary year is celebrated as a British institution of great importance to the history of car racing and aviation But as David Venables reveals in this glorious commemorative volume the famous Surrey landmark with its banked race circuit and aircraft manufacturing hosted many other activities too from motorcycle and bicycle racing to land speed records not to mention stunts wagers and even the odd scandal Brooklands Herbert Byng Hall,2008-06-01 This scarce antiquarian book is a facsimile reprint of the original Due to its age it may contain imperfections such as marks notations marginalia and flawed pages Because we believe this work is culturally important we have made it available as part of our commitment for protecting preserving and promoting the world s literature in affordable high quality modern editions that are true to the original work Brooklands William Boddy,1949 The Spirit of Brooklands Douglas Kurn,2015-11-16 The Spirit Of Brooklands is the culmination of four years work by photographer Douglas Kurn to document the remains of the Brooklands Motor racing circuit The circuit has not been used for motor racing since the start of the Second World War and has been in a state of decline To contrast with how the track was during race days Douglas chose to shoot at night and only when it was completely still This resulted in some beautiful yet eerie results which are presented in this book The Brooklands
