Architect And Engineer A Study In Sibling Rivalry:

Architect and Engineer Andrew Saint, 2007 This book considers how architects and engineers have related to one another over history There are many controversial issues This book enquires into the pattern of these relationships since the Renaissance looking at what has actually taken place when architecture and engineering have interlocked It looks at projects such as building of the Eiffel Tower Pompidou Centre Chicago skyscraper and at personalities such as Vauban Perronet Frank Lloyd Wright Le Corbusier and Ove Arup Architects and Engineers Roland May, 2022-10-24 In the first decades of the 20th century civil engineers were widely seen as a role model for future architects Their role within the contemporary architecture movements however was hardly discussed To this day even fundamental questions about collaborations rivalries or conflicts between the two sister disciplines still await answers This volume brings together contributions by international scholars on the cooperation between architects and civil engineers in various countries in the interwar period By offering both insights into national peculiarities and new reflections on the general nature character and significance of such joint efforts it opens exciting new perspectives on the modern building culture of Europe and beyond Constructing Building Enclosures Clifton Fordham, 2020-07-21 Constructing Building Enclosures investigates and interrogates tensions that arose between the disciplines of architecture and engineering as they wrestled with technology and building cultures that evolved to deliver structures in the modern era At the center of this history are inventive architects engineers and projects that did not settle for conventional solutions technologies and methods Comprised of thirteen original essays by interdisciplinary scholars this collection offers a critical look at the development and the purpose of building technology within a design framework Through two distinct sections the contributions first challenge notions of the boundaries between architecture engineering and construction The authors then investigate twentieth century building projects exploring technological and aesthetic boundaries of postwar modernism and uncovering lessons relevant to enclosure design that are typically overlooked Projects include Louis Kahn's Weiss House Minoru Yamasaki's Science Center Sigurd Lewerentz's Chapel of Hope and more An important read for students educators and researchers within architectural history construction history building technology and design this volume sets out to disrupt common assumptions of how we understand this history Function and Fantasy: Iron Architecture in the Long Nineteenth Century Paul Dobraszczyk, Peter Sealy, 2016-07-01 The introduction of iron and later steel construction and decoration transformed architecture in the nineteenth century While the structural employment of iron has been a frequent subject of study this book re-directs scholarly scrutiny on its place in the aesthetics of architecture in the long nineteenth century Together its eleven unique and original chapters chart for the first time the global reach of iron's architectural reception from the first debates on how iron could be incorporated into architecture's traditional aesthetics to the modernist cleaving of its structural and ornamental roles The book is divided into three sections Formations considers the rising tension between the desire to translate traditional architectural motifs into iron and the nascent feeling that iron buildings were themselves creating an entirely new field of aesthetic expression Exchanges charts the commercial and cultural interactions that took place between British iron foundries and clients in far flung locations such as Argentina Jamaica Nigeria and Australia Expressing colonial control as well as local agency iron buildings struck a balance between pre fabricated functionalism and a desire to convey beauty value and often exoticism through ornament Transformations looks at the place of the aesthetics of iron architecture in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries a period in which iron ornament sought to harmonize wide social ambitions while offering the tantalizing possibility that iron architecture as a whole could transform the fundamental meanings of ornament Taken together these chapters call for a re evaluation of modernism s supposedly rationalist interest in nineteenth century iron structures one that has potentially radical implications for the recent ornamental turn in contemporary architecture
