□□□□□□, 2006 The Discourse of Negotiation A. Firth, 2014-06-28 The study of negotiation has attracted considerable scholarly attention in recent decades yet rarely have discourse analysts applied their particular concerns and interests to the phenomenon Although a fundamental characteristic of negotiation is linguistic action the detailed study of negotiation as a communicative discourse activity is in its infancy In the first collection of its kind Alan Firth has brought together 14 original studies of negotiation discourse Drawing on insights and methodologies from discourse and conversation analysis pragmatics ethnography and ethnomethodology the book examines negotiations in a wide range of workplaces including the US Federal Trade Commission management union meetings doctors surgeries travel agencies international trading houses in Denmark Belgium and Australia Swedish social welfare offices and consumer helplines Collectively the book explores the notion of negotiation both as a formal encounter and as a gloss for more informal decision making activities Questions specifically addressed include what is the interactional character of negotiation How are negotiations related to the work context And how are negotiations undertaken linguistically as discourse based activities Answers are sought by utilising transcripts of real life instances of negotiation This allows for finely detailed descriptions of the observed activities providing important insight into the discourse context relationship the interactional bases of work activities and the communicative processes of negotiation
