Important information about using your account and routing number: Be careful when you give out your account number and routing number to an originator that you authorize to process debts from your accounts. At times, an originator may process such a payment as a check and submit it to us instead of an ACH (Automated Clearing House) transaction. Those checks will be rejected and not paid. You may be charged a fee by the originator if this happens. If you give anyone your account number and routing number, make sure it is for an ACH transaction only. You may want to ask if the merchant can use your debit card number instead. Please see the Deposit Agreement and Disclosures for more details about ACH transactions.
