

Bergen Academies

Sample Test #3

This test resembles the math portion of the Bergen County Academies entrance exam, which will be given in January. Applicants are given sixty minutes to complete the 40-question test (without a calculator). In scoring, two points are given for each correct answer and one-half point is deducted for each incorrect answer. Unanswered questions are not counted. Since each question has five possible answers, this means that random guessing will, on the average, neither help nor hurt your score.

The answers are:

D1 - 10	A B A B C	C C C E E
11 - 20	E A E B A	A C D B E
21 - 30	C B B A E	E C B C C
31 - 40	E E C E C	C E E E E

Finn, Jr., Jessica A. Hockett, 2012-09-16 An in depth look at academically selective public high schools in America What is the best education for exceptionally able and high achieving youngsters Can the United States strengthen its future intellectual leadership economic vitality and scientific prowess without sacrificing equal opportunity There are no easy answers but as Chester Finn and Jessica Hockett show for more than 100 000 students each year the solution is to enroll in an academically selective public high school Exam Schools is the first ever close up look at this small sometimes controversial yet crucial segment of American public education This groundbreaking book discusses how these schools work and their critical role in nurturing the country's brightest students The 165 schools identified by Finn and Hockett are located in thirty states plus the District of Columbia While some are world renowned such as Boston Latin and Bronx Science others are known only in their own communities The authors survey the schools on issues ranging from admissions and student diversity to teacher selection They probe sources of political support curriculum instructional styles educational effectiveness and institutional autonomy Some of their findings are surprising Los Angeles for example has no exam schools while New York City has dozens Asian American students are overrepresented but so are African American pupils Culminating with in depth profiles of eleven exam schools and thoughtful reflection on policy implications Finn and Hockett ultimately consider whether the country would be better off with more such schools At a time of keen attention to the faltering education system Exam Schools sheds positive light on a group of schools that could well provide a transformative roadmap for many of America's children The Competitive Dynamics of Entrepreneurial Market Entry Gideon Markman, Phillip H. Phan, 2011 Research on general market entry usually focuses on large enterprises Often however small entrants can alter the competitive dynamics of an industry This volume brings together the most prominent thought leaders and the best research on the asymmetric entrant incumbent dynamics The ideas presented offer a more nuanced perspective on how when where and with what consequences small single product firms enter markets that are dominated by large multiproduct and multimarket incumbents Large enterprises often enjoy a number of advantages that young small ventures as well as matured but still small firms lack These differences manifest not only in how large and small firms operate and in their resource capability mix but also in how they compete and interact with each other Research on general market entry and competitive dynamics is extensive yet it focuses on entrants and incumbents that are of similar profile similar size comparable asset mixes related product strategies and equivalent organizational capabilities The unique contribution of this volume is its concentration on asymmetric entrant incumbent dynamics Scholars and students in entrepreneurship strategy international business and related fields will find this excellent collection of key published and original material illuminating

Postsecondary Sourcebook for Community Colleges, Technical, Trade, and Business Schools Northeast/Southeast Edition ,2010-12 Changing the Course of Failure Sandra Stotsky,2018-05-18

The basic purpose of this book is to help policy makers at all levels of government understand that 1 widespread adolescent underachievement is not susceptible to solution by educational interventions no matter how much money is allocated to public education and 2 there are unidentified educational and civic costs to focusing on low achievement and to expecting public institutions of education for K 12 and college to solve a growing social problem Many policy makers seem to think that teachers schools are the primary cause of low achievement Educational institutions still cannot solve a non education caused problem and haven t done so for over fifty years despite all the public and private money that has been allocated The book concludes with suggested policies for addressing the damage to public education from gap closing standards and with suggested areas for policy making in order to change the current course of failure for many low achieving students
