The Image of Environmental Harm in American Social Documentary Photography Chris Balaschak, 2021-03-03 With an emphasis on photographic works that offer new perspectives on the history of American social documentary this book considers a history of politically engaged photography that may serve as models for the representation of impending environmental injustices Chris Balaschak examines histories of American photography the environmental movement as well as the industrial and postindustrial economic conditions of the United States in the 20th century With particular attention to a material history of photography focused on the display and dissemination of documentary images through print media and exhibitions the work considered places emphasis on the depiction of communities and places harmed by industrialized capitalism The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual studies photography ecocriticism environmental humanities media studies culture studies and visual rhetoric Documenting America, 1935-1943 Lawrence W. Levine, Alan Trachtenberg, 1988 Photographs by a team of photographers who traveled across the United States documenting America's experience of the Great Depression and World War II Plagues, Apocalypses and Bug-Eyed Monsters Heather Urbanski, 2015-01-24 Speculative fiction both science fiction and fantasy reflects among other things the fears of the culture that created it contributing perhaps unconsciously to our efforts to prevent our fears from coming true While the names and media change over time the themes of speculative fiction have a long history Nineteenth century works such as Frankenstein and The Invisible Man contain many of the same messages as the more modern tales of Terminator Jurassic Park and even Buffy the Vampire Slayer although almost a century separates their creation This critical study discusses the ways in which speculative fiction reflects societal fears and analyzes how such cautionary tales contribute to society's efforts to avoid the realization of these fears Beginning with a discussion of the nature of speculative fiction it takes a look at the characteristics of the cautionary tale The core of the book however is the concept of the Nightmares Model which examines and categorizes the repetition of specific themes within the genre The dangers of science and technology the perils of power and the threat of the unknown are discussed as recurrent themes within a variety of works in prose film and television Works analyzed range from Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea to 2001 A Space Odyssey to The Blair Witch Project Sources include the author's own observations as a member of the genre's fandom a variety of published commentaries and the perspectives of contemporary professionals gained through personal interviews and panel discussions America's God Mark A. Noll, 2002-10-03 Religious life in early America is often equated with fire and brimstone Puritanism yet by the nineteenth century Americans had moved away from the severe European traditions of which Puritanism was the most influential In its place arose a singularly American set of beliefs marked by heightened spiritual inwardness a new confidence in individual reason and an attentiveness to the economic and market realities of Western life In America's God Mark Noll has given us the definitive history of Christian theology in America from the time of Jonathan Edwards to the presidency of Abraham Lincoln
