The New Human in Literature Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, 2013-09-26 Twentieth century literature changed understandings of what it meant to be human Mads Rosendahl Thomsen in this historical overview presents a record of literature's changing ideas of mankind questioning the degree to which literature records and creates visions of the new human Grounded in the theory of Niklas Luhmann and drawing on canonical works Thomsen uses literary changes in the mind body and society to define the new human He begins with the modernist minds of Virginia Woolf Williams Carlos Williams and Louis Ferdinand Celine's discusses the society changing concepts envisioned by Chinua Achebe Mo Yan and Orhan Pamuk He concludes with science fiction discussing Don DeLillo and Michel Houellebecq's ideas of revolutionizing man through biotechnology This is a study about imagination aesthetics and ethics that demonstrates literature's capacity to not only imagine the future but portray the conflicting desires between individual and various collectives better than any other media A study that heightens reflections on human evolution and posthumanism

The Bioethics of Enhancement Melinda Hall, 2016-12-07 In a critical intervention into the bioethics debate over human enhancement philosopher Melinda Hall tackles the claim that the expansion and development of human capacities is a moral obligation Hall draws on French philosopher Michel Foucault to reveal and challenge the ways disability is central to the conversation The Bioethics of Enhancement includes a close reading and analysis of the last century of enhancement thinking and contemporary transhumanist thinkers the strongest promoters of the obligation to pursue enhancement technology With specific attention to the work of bioethicists Nick Bostrom and Julian Savulescu the book challenges the rhetoric and strategies of enhancement thinking These include the desire to transcend the body and decide who should live in future generations through emerging technologies such as genetic selection Hall provides new analyses rethinking both the philosophy of enhancement and disability arguing that enhancement should be a matter of social and political interventions not genetic and biological interventions Hall concludes that human vulnerability and difference should be cherished rather than extinguished This book will be of interest to academics working in bioethics and disability studies along with those working in Continental philosophy especially on Foucault
