Chicago Daily News Reprints, 1925 Destroy the Copy - Plaster Cast Collections in the 19th-20th Centuries Annetta Alexandridis, Lorenz Winkler-Horaček, 2022-09-06 Based on two international conferences held at Cornell University and the Freie Universität of Berlin in 2010 and 2015 this volume is the first ever to explicitly address the destruction of plaster cast collections of ancient Mediterranean and Western sculpture Focusing on Europe the Americas and Japan art historians archaeologists and a literary scholar discuss how different museum and academic traditions national as well as disciplinary notions of value and authenticity or colonialism impacted the fate of collections The texts offer detailed documentation of degrees of destruction by spectacular acts of defacement demolition discarding or neglect They also shed light on the accompanying discourses regarding aesthetic ideals political ideologies educational and scholarly practices or race With destruction being understood as a critical part of reception the histories of cast collections defy the traditional homogenous narrative of rise and decline Their diverse histories provide critical evidence for rethinking the use and display of plaster cast collections in the contemporary moment Traditions and Difference in Contemporary Irish Short Fiction Tsung Chi (Hawk) Chang,2020-12-17 This book focuses on traditions and transformations in contemporary Irish short fiction covering pivotal issues such as gender sexuality abortion the body nostalgia identity and migration In separate chapters it introduces readers to important writers such as Maeve Binchy Colm T ib n Edna O'Brien Emma Donoghue Gish Jen and Donal Ryan Given its focus the book benefits researchers and students who are interested in Irish literature and culture especially those who want to learn about important traditions in Irish literature the changing face of these conventions and the implications The book which received the First Book Prize 2019 awarded by The Hong Kong Academy of the Humanities offers a unique window on Irish culture and a good read for fans of these acclaimed writers who want to learn about interesting issues concerning their short fiction The Irish Classical Self Laurie O'Higgins,2017-03-09 The Irish Classical Self considers the role of classical languages and learning in the construction of Irish cultural identities in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries focusing in particular on the lower ranks of society This eighteenth century notion of the classical self grew partly out of influential identity narratives developed in the seventeenth century by clerics on the European continent responding to influential critiques of the Irish as ignorant barbarians they published works demonstrating the value and antiquity of indigenous culture and made traditional annalistic claims about the antiquity of Irish and connections between Ireland and the biblical and classical world broadly known In the eighteenth century these and related ideas spread through Irish poetry which demonstrated the complex and continuing interaction of languages in the country a story of conflict but also of communication and amity The classical strain in the context of the non elite may seem like an unlikely phenomenon but the volume exposes the truth in the legend of the classical hedge schools which offered tuition in Latin and Greek to poor students for whom learning and claims to learning had particular meaning and power This volume surveys official data on schools and scholars together with literary and other narratives showing how the schools inherently transgressive because of the Penal Laws drove concerns about class and political loyalty and inspired seductive but contentious retrospectives It demonstrates that classical interests among those in the humbler walks of life ran in the same channels as interests in Irish literature and contemporary Irish poetry and demands a closer look at the phenomenon in its entirety Advertising, Literature and Print Culture in Ireland, 1891-1922 J. Strachan,C. Nally,2012-08-07 This is the first study of the cultural meanings of advertising in the Irish Revival period John Strachan and Claire Nally shed new light on advanced nationalism in Ireland before and immediately after the Easter Rising of 1916 while also addressing how the wider politics of Ireland from the Irish Parliamentary Party to anti Home Rule unionism resonated through contemporary advertising copy The book examines the manner in which some of the key authors of the Revival notably Oscar Wilde and W B Yeats reacted to advertising and to the consumer culture around them Illustrated with over 60 fascinating contemporary advertising images this book addresses a diverse and intriguing range of Irish advertising the pages of An Claidheamh Soluis under Patrick Pearse s editorship the selling of the Ulster Volunteer Force the advertising columns of The Lady of the House the marketing of the sports of the Gaelic Athletic Association the use of Irish Party politicians in First World War recruitment campaigns the commemorative paraphernalia surrounding the centenary of the 1798 United Irishmen uprising and the relationship of Murphy s stout with the British military Sinn F in and the Irish Free State      The Bookman's Journal and Print Collector Wilfred Partington,1919      Print and Popular Culture in Ireland, 1750-1850 Niall O Ciosáin,2016-07-27 This highly acclaimed book is being published for the first time in paperback The author studies the cheap printed literature which was read in eighteenth and nineteenth century Ireland and the cultures of its audience It takes an interdisciplinary approach to a little known topic pursuing comparisons with other regions such as Brittany and Scotland By addressing questions such as the language shift and the unique social configuration of Ireland in this period it adds a new dimension to the growing body of studies of popular culture in Europe      Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature, and Booksellers' Record ,1896
