Between Samaritans And States The Political Ethics Of Humanitarian Ingos:

Between Samaritans and States Jennifer C. Rubenstein, 2015 Examining the difficult ethical quandaries faced by humanitarian non governmental organizations INGOs this book explains why INGOs occupy a middle ground between the individual good Samaritan and full fledged conventional governments

Between Samaritans and States Jennifer Rubenstein, 2015-01-29 This book provides the first book length English language account of the political ethics of large scale Western based humanitarian INGOs such as Oxfam CARE and Doctors Without Borders These INGOs are often either celebrated as heroes or do good machines or maligned as incompetents on the road to hell In contrast this book suggests the picture is more complicated Drawing on political theory philosophy and ethics along with original fieldwork this book shows that while humanitarian INGOs are often perceived as non governmental and apolitical they are in fact sometimes somewhat governmental highly political and often second best actors As a result they face four central ethical predicaments the problem of spattered hands the quandary of the second best the cost effectiveness conundrum and the moral motivation trade off This book considers what it would look like for INGOs to navigate these predicaments in ways that are as consistent as possible with democratic egalitarian humanitarian and justice based norms It argues that humanitarian INGOs must regularly make deep moral compromises In choosing which compromises to make they should focus primarily on their overall consequences as opposed to their intentions or the intrinsic value of their activities But they should interpret consequences expansively and not limit themselves to those that are amenable to precise measurements of cost effectiveness The book concludes by explaining the implications of its map of humanitarian INGO political ethics for individual donors to INGOs and for how we all should conceive of INGOs role in addressing pressing global problems

Depoliticising Humanitarian

Action Isabelle Desportes, Alice Corbet, Ayesha Siddiqi, 2024-09-12 Is it ever possible to separate humanitarian action from politics Drawing on the experience of both practitioners and researchers this book is an essential guide to the thorny interplay between what are too often considered as separate worlds The humanitarian sector aims to separate its work from politics arguing that independence and neutrality are essential in order to gain entry into disaster and conflict settings Yet humanitarian claims of non involvement in politics have also been dismissed as misleading naive or counter productive In practice humanitarians find themselves working within political settings on a daily basis This book investigates the theory behind depoliticisation the political background and context behind humanitarian action and the daily dilemmas faced by practitioners walking that fine line between principles and pragmatism Finally this book considers the importance of decolonising mainstream understandings of humanitarianism and politics and of placing understandings from the Global South at the heart of the discussion Balancing theoretical insights with empirical grounding field examples and recommendations for policy and practice this book is perfect for researchers and students in humanitarian studies political science international relations human rights development studies disaster studies and peace and conflict studies as well as humanitarian practitioners and policy makers

Understanding the Humanitarian World Daniel Maxwell, Kirsten Gelsdorf, 2019-04-17 Conflict and disaster have been part of human history for as long as it has been recorded Over time more mechanisms for responding to crises have developed and become more systematized Today a large and complex global humanitarian response system made up of a multitude of local national and international actors carries out a wide variety of responses Understanding this intricate system and the forces that shape it are the core focus of this book Daniel G Maxwell and Kirsten Gelsdorf highlight the origins growth and specific challenges to humanitarian action and examine why the contemporary system functions as it does They outline the main actors explore how they are organised and look at the ways they plan and carry out their operations Interrogating major contemporary debates and controversies in the humanitarian system and the reasons why actions undertaken in its name remain the subject of so much controversy they provide an important overview of the contemporary humanitarian system and the ways it may develop in the future This book offers a nuanced understanding of the way humanitarian action operates in the 21st century It will be essential reading for anyone with an interest in international human rights law disaster management and international relations For more information please see the authors website <https://www.understandingthehumanitarianworld.com>

Ethics and Practice of Refugee Repatriation Mollie Gerver, 2018-11-14 Mollie Gerver considers when bodies such as the UN government agencies and NGOs ought to help refugees to return home Drawing on original interviews with 172 refugees before and after repatriation she resolves six moral puzzles arising from repatriation using the methods of analytical philosophy to provide a more ethical framework

Human Rights: Moral or Political? Adam Etinson, 2018-03-09 Over the past decade or so philosophical speculation about human rights has tended to fall into two streams On the one hand there are Orthodox theorists who think of human rights as natural rights moral rights that we have simply in virtue of being human On the other hand there are Political theorists who think of human rights as rights that play a distinctive role or set of roles in modern international politics setting universal standards of political legitimacy serving as norms of international concern and or imposing limits on the exercise of national sovereignty This edited volume explores this disagreement its underlying sources and related issues in the philosophy of human rights Using the Orthodox Political debate as a springboard for broader reflection the volume covers a diverse range of questions about the relevance of the history of human rights to their philosophical comprehension how to properly understand the relationship between human rights morality and law how to balance the normative character of human rights their description of an ideal world with the requirement that they be feasible in the here and now the role of human rights in a world shaped by politics and power and how to reconcile the individualistic and communitarian aspects of human rights All chapters are accompanied by useful and probing commentaries which help to create dialogues throughout the entire volume

Handbook on the Politics of International Development Deciancio, Melisa, Nemiña, Pablo, Tussie, Diana, 2022-05-24 This innovative book sets out to rethink corporate social responsibility CSR in global value chains

When the State Meets the Street Bernardo Zacka, 2017-09-18 Bernardo Zacka probes the complex moral lives of street level bureaucrats the frontline social and welfare workers police officers and educators who represent government's human face to ordinary citizens Too often dismissed as soulless operators these workers wield significant discretion and make decisions that profoundly affect people's lives

Legitimacy Beyond the State N. P. Adams, Antoinette Scherz, Cord Schmelzle, 2021-05-13 This volume addresses the normative legitimacy of the international order asking how we can make sense of legitimacy claims of increasingly diverse global governance institutions and practices and how their legitimacy relates to and differs from state legitimacy State legitimacy is a central concern of modern political thought but is inadequate when applied to institutions that differ from the state in type level of governance scope and much else We need a new tailored approach to the legitimacy of institutions beyond the state especially international and transnational institutions Such an approach includes foundational questions what does it mean for institutions to be legitimate that have radically different purposes means interests capacities constituents and roles from states And what standards do such institutions have to meet in order to count as legitimate The contributions to this volume seek to advance the debate on these questions at both abstract and more concrete levels They range from conceptual questions about the nature of legitimacy and international institutions to rule of law to the legitimacy of the UN Security Council the International Criminal Court and occupying military forces in the face of challenges specific to their nature and context Together they demonstrate both the promise and challenges of theorizing legitimacy beyond the state The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal Critical Review of International Social and Political Philosophy

The Power of Civil Society in the Middle East and North Africa Ibrahim Natil, Chiara Pierobon, Lilian Tauber, 2019-05-24 This book investigates the power of civil society in the Middle East and North Africa MENA in the context of the post Arab Spring era as well as more long standing challenges and constraints in the region In recent years local civil society actors have faced significant challenges from social conservatism conflict violence and the absence of democracy and exclusive political systems Over the course of the book the authors investigate how the sector has succeeded in achieving its own objectives despite these shifting conditions the restrictive political environment and the complexity of the socio cultural and economic context Structured around the three themes of peace building development and change the book also addresses challenges faced by civil society organizations linked to ethnic linguistic and cultural diversities as well as religious salient differences that are crucial markers of social and political identity Case studies are drawn from the Palestinian Occupied Territories Jordan Iran Nigeria Niger Egypt and Morocco and particular effort has been made to showcase original research from contributors who are from the region This book will be of particular interest to researchers working on development peace building conflict resolution civil society and politics within the MENA region
