Nicoll, 1996-08-01 When Maurice Nicholl was studying in Zurich he met Jung and Ouspensky He went on to study with Gurdjieff and from 1931 to his death in 1953 he began at Ouspensky's request a programme of work devoted to passing on the ideas he had received Reissued in hard cover these five unedited commentaries are taken from the weekly lectures and talks Nicoll gave to his students in England and which were recorded verbatim the sixth volume is an index produced by the Gurdjieff society Washington DC These differ from Nicholl's more polished works they are more concerned with directly applying certain deep ideas to daily life Darwin-Inspired Learning Carolyn J. Sanders, 2015-01-19 Charles Darwin has been extensively analysed and written about as a scientist Victorian father and husband However this is the first book to present a carefully thought out pedagogical approach to learning that is centered on Darwin's life and scientific practice The ways in which Darwin developed his scientific ideas and their far reaching effects continue to challenge and provoke contemporary teachers and learners inspiring them to consider both how scientists work and how individual humans read nature Darwin inspired learning as proposed in this international collection of essays is an enquiry based pedagogy that takes the professional practice of Charles Darwin as its source Without seeking to idealise the man Darwin inspired learning places importance on active learning hands on enquiry critical thinking creativity argumentation interdisciplinarity In an increasingly urbanised world first hand observations of living plants and animals are becoming rarer Indeed some commentators suggest that such encounters are under threat and children are living in a time of nature deficit Darwin inspired learning with its focus on close observation and hands on enquiry seeks to re engage children and young people with the living world through critical and creative thinking modeled on Darwin s life and science
