Cross-Examined Films Matthew King, 2017-12-06 After spending nearly a quarter of a lifetime watching popular and independent films Matthew King RN makes a point to criticize the Christian church for its lack of engagement with films He believes that the lack of engagement and the strong denunciation of films only because of their sexual or violent content has lost an entire generation because of the inability to speak the millennial language of popular Hollywood films With searing prose and biting confrontation King attempts to engage films through the lens of theology philosophy and political analysis to assist the church in identifying positive as well as negative examples of the topics within to better engage an entire generation Through this investigation Christians and non Christians alike will be both enlightened and surprised at what popular films have unconsciously taught them from a young age

Singing Death Helen Dell, Helen M. Hickey, 2017-04-21 Death is an unanswerable question for humanity the question that always remains unanswered because it lies beyond human experience Music represents one of the most profound ways in which humanity struggles nevertheless to accommodate death within the scope of the living by giving a voice to death and the dead and a voice that responds This book engages with the question of how music expresses and responds to the profound existential disturbance that death and loss present to the living Each chapter offers readers an encounter with music as a way of speaking or responding to human mortality Each chapter in its own way addresses these questions How are death and the dead made present to us through music How does music as composed performed and heard respond to the brute fact of death for the living the dying and the bereaved These questions are addressed from a wide range of disciplinary perspectives musicology ethnomusicology literature history philosophy film studies psychology and psychoanalysis Singing Death also covers a wide range of musical genres from medieval love song to twenty first century horror film music The collection is accompanied by a website including some of the music associated with each of its chapters
