Beyond Relocation The Imperative Of Sustainable Resettlement:

Beyond Relocation Renu Modi, 2009 This collection addresses various issues of development induced displacement and resettlement by offering empirical evidence from various countries mainly in Asia and Africa By presenting a comparative approach it helps the reader understand and theorise about the nature and characteristics of forced displacement

Development-Induced Displacement and Resettlement Bogumil Terminski, 2014-05-01 This book explores the issue of development induced resettlement with a particular emphasis on the humanitarian legal and social aspects of this problem Today so called development induced displacement and resettlement DIDR is one of the dominant causes of internal spatial mobility worldwide Each year over 15 million people are forced to abandon their homes to make space for economic development infrastructure The construction of dams and irrigation projects the expansion of communication networks urbanization and re urbanization the extraction and transportation of mineral resources forced evictions in urban areas and population redistribution schemes count among the many possible causes Terminski aims to present the issue of development caused displacement as a highly diverse global social problem occurring in all regions of the world As a human rights issue it poses a challenge to public international law and to institutions providing humanitarian assistance A significant part of this book is devoted to the current dynamics of development caused resettlement in Europe which has been neglected in the academic literature so far

Resettling Displaced Communities William L. Partridge, David B. Halmo, 2020-10-28 Global trends suggest that the number of people involuntarily displaced will increase exponentially in the coming decades The authors argue that when the agency time tested adaptations innovative capacities dignity and human rights of displaced people are respected as full participants in the rebuilding of their communities livelihoods and standards of living resettlement outcomes are more positive The goal of resettlement must be the sustainable social economic and human development of affected communities requiring a praxis of ethical commitment to effective actionable recommendations based on empirical observation The authors draw on case examples from Asia Africa and the Americas This book will be of interest to resettlement specialists planners administrators nongovernmental and civil society organizations and scholars and students of anthropology sociology development studies and social policy

The Attempt to Stay Valerie Hänsch, 2024-08-01 The construction of the Merowe Dam along the Nile in northern Sudan flooded local villages and forced thousands of inhabitants to flee to higher ground Despite the radical social and environmental transformations and an uncertain future the Manasir have tried to continue their peasant way of life and resisted relocating to state run resettlement schemes Rather than focusing on migration and resettlement the author follows the people s attempts to preserve their homeland and have meaningful lives along the emerging reservoir The book grapples with the fundamental question of how to re establish life in a world that is falling apart

Resettlement in Asian Countries Mohammad Zaman, Reshmy Nair, Shi Guoqing, 2021-12-15 This book examines land acquisition and resettlement experience in Asian countries where nearly two thirds of the world's development induced displacement currently takes place. Faced with the complexity of balancing legal frameworks and resettlement needs along with increasing demands for safeguarding displaced peoples in recent years many countries within Asia have adopted integrated land and resettlement laws. This book presents a comparative review and assessment of the impact of the new land and resettlement laws and regulatory frameworks for expropriation compensation and resettlement. Written by an international interdisciplinary team of experts from both practice and academia the book demonstrates the ongoing challenges and struggles associated with social and resettlement risk assessments the social and cultural exclusion of indigenous vulnerable groups in some countries and the lack of institutional capacity to adequately deal with resettlement management and administration. The case studies and comparative analyses of laws and practices relating to expropriation compensation and resettlement make significant contributions to advancing resettlement knowledge and management practices. The book will be useful as a reference for development practitioners and for researchers across the fields of global development political science Asian studies planning and law. The book also has potential use as a resource for resettlement management training programs and graduate level courses seminars in development studies.

Seeking Middle Ground Sanjoy Chakravorty, Amitendu Palit, 2019-07-15 Land is a subject of great conflict and debate in India. Over the last decade it has influenced electoral verdicts and political fortunes and remains one of the most persistent challenges facing the nation. This book argues that the focus on politics and land acquisition has deflected attention from the possibilities of market oriented approaches that are becoming relevant because of booming but diverse land markets. It aims to nudge the discussion towards a better understanding of the complementary strengths of state and market led approaches to the many problems of land in rural and urban India. Featuring original essays from leading analysts this book examines the agrarian crisis and urbanization laws and policies displacement and compensation factories and housing cooperation and conflict and other vital issues affecting land at the regional and national level. These multiple lines of enquiry make this book a critical and objective commentary on contemporary India and its ongoing economic socio political and legal struggles with land.

Land Conflicts Across Frontiers Reshmi Banerjee, 2018-11-12 Land Conflicts Across Frontiers compares Myanmar's journey with North East India on the critical and contested issue of land. It examines concerns related to land in pre colonial and colonial history causes and consequences of land conflicts today the socioeconomic dynamics attached to land along with attempted community based institutional interventions and rural activism. As Myanmar takes its steps towards a democratic future it becomes critical for the country to be aware of North East India's experiences as they could provide valuable lessons of what to implement and what to avoid. Loss of common property resources non recognition of customary rights ambiguous land laws and inadequate attention to people's grievances have led to a rural landscape which has witnessed livelihood vulnerability displacement and conflict. The book not only tries to capture cross border experiences in order to have a better understanding of land alienation agrarian discontent and peripheral marginalization but also notes recent trends in rural spaces and suggests policy measures

Development-induced Displacement, Rehabilitation and Resettlement in India Sakarama Somayaji, Smrithi Talwar, 2011-03-31 Compulsory land acquisition and involuntary displacement of communities for a larger public purpose captures the tension of development in the modern state with the need to balance the interests of the majority while protecting the rights of the minority In India informal estimates of involuntary resettlement are estimated to be around 50 million people over the last five decades and three fourths of those displaced still face an uncertain future Growing public concern over the long term consequences of this has led to greater scrutiny of the rehabilitation and resettlement process particularly for large development projects This book examines a number of new policy formulations put in place at both the central and state levels looking at land acquisition procedures and norms for rehabilitation and resettlement of communities The book combines a theoretical analysis of the proposed regulatory framework with detailed case studies that examine the application of these norms in specific geographic contexts across the country It brings together contributory analysis by some of the country s most engaged administrators academics and activists in the field and is a useful contribution to Development Studies

Land Acquisition and Tribal Development in Neoliberal Eastern India Debasree De, 2024-04-10 This book discusses the impact of land grabbing and associated displacement in the name of development in India It also analyses the prevailing land acquisition laws which are used to uproot the tribal people from their homes and livelihoods The book reveals the causes of displacement and highlights the subsequent impoverishment joblessness and trauma with special reference to the states of Odisha and Jharkhand The book is based on an in depth field study conducted in the tribal populated areas of the two states It has a special focus on the tribal women who bear the brunt of displacement and lose their autonomy in becoming migrant labourers Policy makers law practitioners development analysts historians environmentalists political scientists sociologists and administrators will find the book useful as it deals with the rehabilitation and resettlement programs and policies related to development induced displacement

Innovating Strategies and Solutions for Urban Performance and Regeneration Cristina Piselli, Haşim Altan, Osman Balaban, Peleg Kremer, 2022-07-01 This book focuses on enhancing urban regeneration performance and strategies that pave the way toward sustainable urban development models and solutions The book at hand thoroughly examines the latest studies on the regeneration of urban areas and attempts at alleviating the negative impacts associated with high population density and urban heat effects It gathers contributions that combine theoretical reflections and international case studies on urban regeneration and transformation with the single goal of tackling existing social and economic imbalances and developing new solutions The primary audience of this book will be from the field of architecture and urban planning offering new insights on how to address the myriad of problems that our cities are facing
