Scientific Notation & Dimensional Analysis

Scientific Notation

Introduction:

Scientific notation is a shorthand way to express large or tiny numbers. Since you will need to do calculations throughout the year WITHOUT A CALCULATOR, we will consider anything over 1000 to be a large number. Writing these numbers in scientific notation will help you do your calculations much quicker and easier and will help prevent mistakes in conversions from one unit to another. Like the metric system, scientific notation is based on factors of 10. A large number written in scientific notation looks like this:

$$1.23 \times 10^{11}$$

The number before the $\times$ (1.23) is called the coefficient. The coefficient must be greater than 1 and less than 10. The number after the $\times$ is the base number and is always 10. The number in superscript (11) is the exponent.

Part I: Writing Numbers in Scientific Notation

To write a large number in scientific notation, put a decimal after the first digit. Count the number of digits after the decimal you just wrote in. This will be the exponent. Drop any zeros so that the coefficient contains as few digits as possible.

Example: 123,000,000,000

Step 1: Place a decimal after the first digit. 1.230000000000

Step 2: Count the digits after the decimal...there are 11.

Step 3: Drop the zeros and write in the exponent. 1.23×10^{11}

Writing tiny numbers in scientific notation is similar. The only difference is the decimal is moved to the left and the exponent is a negative. A tiny number written in scientific notation looks like this:

$$4.26 \times 10^{-8}$$

To write a tiny number in scientific notation, move the decimal after the first digit that is not a zero. Count the number of digits before the decimal you just wrote in. This will be the exponent as a negative. Drop any zeros before or after the decimal.

Example: .0000000426

Step 1: 00000004.26

Step 2: Count the digits before the decimal...there are 8.

Step 3: Drop the zeros and write in the exponent as a negative. 4.26×10^{-8}

Part II: Adding and Subtracting Numbers in Scientific Notation

To add or subtract two numbers with exponents, the exponents must be the same. You can do this by moving the decimal one way or another to get the exponents the same. Once the exponents are the same, add (if it's an addition problem) or subtract (if it's a subtraction problem) the coefficients just as you would any regular addition problem (review the previous section about decimals if you need to). The exponent will stay the same. Make sure your answer has only one digit before the decimal – you may need to change the exponent of the answer.

Example: $1.35 \times 10^5 + 3.72 \times 10^5 = ?$

Step 1: Make sure both exponents are the same. It's usually easier to go with the larger exponent so you don't have to change the exponent in your answer, so let's make both exponents 6 for this problem.

$$3.72 \times 10^5 \leftarrow .372 \times 10^6$$

Step 2: Add the coefficients just as you would regular decimals. Remember to line up the decimals.

$$\begin{array}{r} 1.35 \\ + .372 \\ \hline 1.722 \end{array}$$

Step 3: Write your answer including the exponent, which is the same as what you started with.

$$1.722 \times 10^6$$

Part III: Multiplying and Dividing Numbers in Scientific Notation
