Imagining Andrew Marvell at 400 Matthew C. Augustine, Giulio J. Pertile, Steven N. Zwicker, 2022-07-28 To celebrate the work of Andrew Marvell 1621 1678 in the quatercentenary year of his birth Augustine Pertile and Zwicker combine the best historical scholarship with a varied and ambitious critical programme as contributors map the enduring pleasures and challenges of reading and re reading this shrewd and often brilliant writer Andrew Marvell Robert Wilcher, 1985-04-18 This study provides a comprehensive and coherent account of all Andrew Marvell's poetry World Enough and Time Nicholas Murray, 2025-06-25 Although the century which followed Andrew Marvell's death remembered him primarily as a politician and a pamphleteer this gifted poet is responsible for some of the most brilliant lyric exploration of his time World Enough and Time is an extensive biography written by Nicholas Murray a biographer whose literary scholarship and political astuteness matches that of his subject Andrew Marvell Chronology N. Maltzahn, 2005-08-02 This work provides a comprehensive account of the life and writings of Andrew Marvell 1621 78 as well as the reception of his work in the century after his death A much loved poet a compelling controversialist and once famous as a member of Parliament Marvell's intersecting careers are here explored in detail His biography is transformed with wide reference to print and manuscript sources many of which are described for the first time in this useful resource for any student historian literary scholar or general reader interested in the life and works of this great writer The Great War, The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem Oliver Tearle, 2019-04-04 The Great War The Waste Land and the Modernist Long Poem explores how cultural responses to the trauma of the First World War found expression in the form of the modernist long poem Beginning with T S Eliot's The Waste Land Oliver Tearle reads that most famous example of the genre in comparison with lesser known long poems such as Hope Mirrlees's Paris A Poem Richard Aldington's A Fool In the Forest and Nancy Cunard's Parallax As well as presenting a new history of this neglected genre the book examines the ways in which the modernist long poem represented the seminal literary form for grappling with the crises of European modernity in the wake of World War I Andrew Marvell A. D. Cousins, 2016-03-02 This monograph studies how across the Folio of 1681 Marvell's poems engage not merely with different kinds of loss and aspiration but with experiences of both that were in mid seventeenth century England disturbingly new and unfamiliar It particularly examines Marvell's preoccupation with the search for home and with redefining the homeland in times of civil upheaval In doing so it traces his progression from being a poet who plays sophisticatedly with received myth to being one who is a national mythmaker in rivalry with his poetic contemporaries such as Waller and Davenant Although focusing primarily on poems in the Folio of 1681 this book considers those poems in relation to others from the Marvell canon including the Latin poems and the satires from the reign of Charles II It closely considers them as well in relation to verse by poets from the classical past and the European especially English present
