techniques from linguistics and geography to bring fresh insights to the study of poverty Using Geographical Text Analysis it maps the discursive construction of poverty in the UK and compares the results to what administrative data reveal The analysis draws together qualitative and quantitative techniques from corpus linguistics critical discourse analysis Geographical Information Science and the spatial humanities By identifying the place names that occur within close proximity to search terms associated with poverty it shows how different newspapers use place to foreground different aspects of poverty including employment housing money and benefits and how the London centric nature of newspaper reporting dominates the discursive construction of UK poverty This book demonstrates how interdisciplinary research methods can illuminate complex social issues and will appeal to researchers in a number of disciplines from sociology geography and the spatial humanities economics linguistics health and public policy in addition to policymakers and practitioners

Out of the Darkness Frank Trentmann, 2024-02-20 Shortlisted for the Wolfson History Prize One of The Telegraph's 50 Best Books of 2023 Named a Best Book of 2024 by Kirkus Reviews A gripping and nuanced history of the German people from the Second World War to the present day including hugely revealing new primary source material on every aspect of its transformation In 1945 Germany lay ruined Its citizens stood condemned by history responsible for a horrifying genocide and war of extermination But by the end of Angela Merkel's tenure in 2021 Germany looked like the moral voice of Europe welcoming over one million refugees holding together the tenuous threads of the European Union and making military restraint the center of its foreign policy At the same time its rigid fiscal discipline and energy deals with Russian leader Vladimir Putin have cast a shadow over the present Innumerable scholars have asked how Germany could have degenerated from a nation of scientists poets and philosophers into one responsible for genocide And yet until now a similarly vital question has been ignored That is how did a nation whose past has been marked by mass murder a people who cheered Adolf Hitler reinvent themselves Trentmann tells this dramatic story from the middle of the Second World War through the Cold War and the division of East and West to the fall of the Berlin Wall and Germany's struggle to find its place in the world today This journey includes a series of internal moral conflicts admissions of guilt and shame vying with immediate economic concerns restitution for some but not others tolerance versus racism compassion versus complicity Through a range of voices German soldiers and German Jews displaced persons in limbo East German women and shopkeepers angry about energy shortages opponents and supporters of nuclear power volunteers helping migrants and refugees and right wing populists attacking them Trentmann paints a remarkable and surprising portrait of the German people over eighty years showing how they became who they are today

Prosthesis David Wills, 1995 Prosthesis is an experiment in critical writing that both analyzes and performs certain questions about the body as an artificial construction The book deals with the mechanical e.g. a mechanical prosthesis like a father's artificial leg in that most humanistic of discourses the artistic in order to demonstrate to what extent a supposedly natural creation relies on artificial devices of various kinds It is distinguished from a thematics of the prosthetic in literature by its complex articulation with accounts of the amputee father s discomfort slipping back and forth between an apparently constative and a more obviously performative mode in and out of fiction and autobiography Cutting across the terrains occupied traditionally by the history of medicine film studies art history philosophy psychoanalysis literary theory and fiction it finds an artistic or cultural pretext for each of its expositions a line from Virgil a painting by Conder a theory by Freud a film by Greenaway a text by Derrida novels by Roussel or Gibson a sixteenth century rhetoric that connects thematically or theoretically with the question of prosthesis
