

ASSETS

Assets are resources owned by a business that have economic value. They are the result of investments made by the business or its owners. Assets are recorded on the balance sheet and are classified into current assets and non-current assets.

- Current Assets: These are assets that are expected to be converted into cash or sold within one year. Examples include cash, accounts receivable, inventory, and prepaid expenses.
- Non-current Assets: These are assets that are not expected to be converted into cash or sold within one year. Examples include property, plant, and equipment, and intangible assets like patents and trademarks.

Assets are measured in terms of their fair value, which is the price that would be received from the sale of an asset in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

LIABILITIES

Liabilities are obligations or debts that a business owes to other parties. They are recorded on the balance sheet and are classified into current liabilities and non-current liabilities.

- Current Liabilities: These are liabilities that are expected to be settled within one year. Examples include accounts payable, short-term debt, and accrued expenses.
- Non-current Liabilities: These are liabilities that are not expected to be settled within one year. Examples include long-term debt, pension obligations, and deferred tax liabilities.

Liabilities are measured in terms of their fair value, which is the price that would be received from the sale of a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date.

CONTRIBUTED CAPITAL

Contributed Capital represents the amount of capital that has been contributed to the business by its owners. It is recorded on the balance sheet and is classified into common stock and preferred stock.

- Common Stock: This is the most basic form of ownership in a company. It represents a share of the company's equity and entitles the holder to a portion of the company's profits and losses.
- Preferred Stock: This is a type of equity that has certain rights and privileges, such as the right to receive dividends before common stockholders.

RETAINED EARNINGS

Retained Earnings represent the portion of a company's profits that are retained within the company rather than being distributed to shareholders as dividends. They are recorded on the balance sheet and are classified into accumulated profits and dividends or drawings.

- Accumulated Profits: These are the profits that have been retained by the company and are available for reinvestment or distribution.
- Dividends or Drawings: These are the amounts that have been paid out to shareholders or withdrawn by the owners.

EQUITY

Equity represents the ownership interest in a business. It is the sum of all assets minus all liabilities. Equity is recorded on the balance sheet and is classified into contributed capital and retained earnings.

- Contributed Capital: This is the amount of capital that has been contributed to the business by its owners.
- Retained Earnings: This is the portion of a company's profits that are retained within the company rather than being distributed to shareholders as dividends.
