Service Learning, Information Literacy, and Libraries Jennifer E. Nutefall, 2016-04-04

As the number of service learning courses and their requirements increase, it is essential for academic librarians to partner with faculty and administration to include lifelong research skills components. This crucial book provides insights and case studies that will help you do just that. Service learning, defined as community service connected to a for-credit college course, is acknowledged to be a high-impact educational practice. It provides students with opportunities to put what they learn in class into action, to engage problem-solving skills, and to reflect on their experiences. Ideally, in service learning, course materials inform student service, and students' service experiences in turn inform academic dialogue and comprehension. But where do academic libraries and librarians fit into this process? This is the first book to provide that missing piece, giving librarians practical information and examples of how to contribute to service learning on their campuses. It begins with an overview of librarian involvement in service learning, highlighting connections between service learning and information literacy pedagogy. Case studies focus on specific aspects of service learning that engage information literacy illustrating ways academic libraries can partner with service learning initiatives The book concludes with thoughts on assessment and short essays on the future of libraries and service learning Assessing Service-Learning and Civic Engagement Sherril B. Gelmon,Barbara A. Holland,Amy Spring,2018-09-06 This book offers a broad overview of many issues related to assessment in higher education with specific application for understanding the impact of service learning and civic engagement initiatives This revised edition includes an additional chapter that explores recent changes in the assessment landscape and offers examples and resources for designing assessment strategies for community engagement in higher education The original text includes narrative addressing assessment issues and strategies a detailed discussion of learning from multiple research projects performed over the past two decades about impact on multiple constituencies students faculty communities and institutions and a discussion of strategies for data collection analysis synthesis and reporting Specific assessment instruments for use with each constituency are provided including suggestions for administration preparation and data analysis This volume will be helpful for individuals seeking a comprehensive resource on assessment issues in higher education University-Community Partnerships for Promoting Social Responsibility in Higher Education Enakshi Sengupta,Patrick Blessinger,Craig Mahoney,2020-07-24 This book provides empirical evidence on how universities have considered social responsibilities as their prime focus and engaged with civil society to enhance their values Case studies from Indonesia to the United Kingdom enrich the book through experience interventions and narratives
