Discipline Problems Tadashi Dozono, 2024-05-07 Angel a Black tenth grader at a New York City public school self identifies as a nerd and likes to learn But she's troubled that her history classes leave out events like the genocide and dispossession of Indigenous people in the Americas presenting a sugar coated image of the United States that is at odds with her everyday experience The history I learned in school is simpler she says The world I live in is a lot more complex Angel like every student interviewed in Discipline Problems has been identified by teachers as a troublemaker a student whose behavior disrupts classroom norms and interferes with instruction But her critiques of the curriculum she's taught speak to her curiosity and insight crucial foundations for understanding history Like many students who have been marginalized by systemic racism in American schools she exposes the shortcomings of her classrooms academic environments by challenging both the content and the methods of her education All too often these challenges are framed as troublemaking and the students are disciplined for acting out instead of being rewarded for their intellectual engagement Tadashi Dozono a professor of education and former high school social studies teacher takes seriously the often overlooked critiques that students of color who get labeled as troublemakers direct toward their high school history curriculum He reinterprets troublemaking usually cast as a behavioral deficit as an intellectual asset and form of reasoning that challenges the disciplining reason of classrooms where whiteness is valued over the histories and knowledge of people of color Dozono shows how what are traditionally framed as discipline

problems can be seen through a different lens as responses to educational practices that marginalize non white students Discipline Problems reveals how students of color seek out alternate avenues for understanding their world and imagines a pedagogy that champions the curiosity intellect and knowledge of marginalized learners Regents Quick Guide: Global History and Geography II Exam Barron's Educational Series,Kristen Thone,2022-01-13 Barron s Regents Quick Guide Global History and Geography II Exam provides expert advice and essential tips and practice for students This digital guide features A clear overview of the exam format including detailed descriptions of all question types Test taking tips and helpful hints for achieving success on all parts of the exam Practice for all question types from recently administered Global History and Geography II Regents Exams including stimulus based multiple choice questions constructed response questions and an enduring issues essay Thorough answer explanations and sample responses for all questions Mass Communication Ralph E. States and beyond a dialogue that must seek the kind of change that represents hope for all students As for the question contained in the title of the book The Phenomenon of Obama and the Agenda for Education Can Hope Still Audaciously Trump Neoliberalism Second Edition Carr and Porfilio develop a framework that integrates the work of the contributors including Christine Sleeter and Dennis Carlson who wrote the original forward and afterword respectively and the updated ones written by Paul Street Peter McLaren and Dennis Carlson which problematize how the Obama administration has presented an extremely constrained conservative notion of change in and through education The rhetoric has not been matched by meaningful tangible transformative proposals policies and programs aimed at transformative change and now fully into a second mandate this second edition of the book is able to more substantively provide a vigorous critique of the contemporary educational and political landscape There are many reasons for this and according to the contributors to this book it is clear that neoliberalism is a major obstacle to stimulating the hope that so many have been hoping for Addressing systemic inequities embedded within neoliberalism Carr and Porfilio argue is key to achieving the hope so brilliantly presented by Obama during the campaign that brought him to the presidency Pet Treats and Processed Chicken from China United States.
