Afghanistan and the Coloniality of Diplomacy Maximilian Drephal, 2019-09-25 This book offers an institutional history of the British Legation in Kabul which was established in response to the independence of Afghanistan in 1919 It contextualises this diplomatic mission in the wider remit of Anglo Afghan relations and diplomacy from the nineteenth to the twenty first century examining the networks of family and profession that established the institution s colonial foundations and its connections across South Asia and the Indian Ocean The study presents the British Legation as a late imperial institution which materialised colonialism s governmental practices in the age of independence Ultimately it demonstrates the continuation of asymmetries forged in the Anglo Afghan encounter and shows how these were transformed into instances of diplomatic inequality in the realm of international relations Approaching diplomacy through the themes of performance the body and architecture and in the context of knowledge transfers this work offers new perspectives on international relations

through a cultural history of diplomacy Colonialism & Modernity Paul Gillen, Devleena Ghosh, 2007 Few books tell such a broad global history using an interdisciplinary approach that blends historical and cultural scholarship Author based at UTS

Irish Imperial Networks Barry Crosbie, 2011-11-17 This is an innovative study of the role of Ireland and the Irish in the British Empire which examines the intellectual cultural and political interconnections between nineteenth century British imperial Irish and Indian history Barry Crosbie argues that Ireland was a crucial sub imperial centre for the British Empire in South Asia that provided a significant amount of the manpower intellectual and financial capital that fuelled Britain's drive into Asia from the 1750s onwards He shows the important role that Ireland played as a centre for recruitment for the armed forces the medical and civil services and the many missionary and scientific bodies established in South Asia during the colonial period In doing so the book also reveals the important part that the Empire played in shaping Ireland's domestic institutions family life and identity in equally significant ways

World Histories from Below Antoinette Burton, Tony Ballantyne, 2022-02-10 History has traditionally privileged elites and their accomplishments World Histories from Below provides an antidote placing ordinary people and subordinated subjects at the heart of the themes it explores Arguing that disruption and dissent are overlooked agents of historical change it takes a global view of topics including political revolution religious conversion labour struggles and body politics This 2nd edition includes two additional chapters on indigenous peoples migration and environmental histories from below With an updated preface this enhanced text also includes additional images and case studies to grapple with themes that have more recently come to the fore such as populism and the environment Offering a study of these themes from 1750 to the present day World Histories from Below refocuses our entire approach to teaching world history

Letters and the Body, 1700-1830 Sarah Goldsmith, Sheryllynne Haggerty, Karen Harvey, 2023-07-04 This collection explores the multifaceted relationship between letters and bodies in the long eighteenth century featuring a broad selection of women's and men's letters written from and to Britain North America Europe India and the Caribbean from the labouring poor to the landed elite In eleven chapters scholars from various disciplines draw on different methodological approaches that include close readings of single letters social historical analyses of large corpora and a material culture approach to the object of the letter This research includes personal letters exchanged among family and friends formal correspondence and letters that were incorporated into published forewords and appendices journals and memoirs Part I explores the letter as a substitute for the absent body the imagined physical encounters and performances envisaged by letter writers and the means through which these imagined sensations were conveyed Part II examines the letter as a material object that served as a conduit for descriptions of the material body and as an instrument for embodied encounters Part III focuses on how correspondents purposefully used their bodies in letters as a means to create intimacy to generate social networks and build a body politic This interdisciplinary volume centred around letters will be of interest to scholars and students in a variety of fields including eighteenth century studies cultural history and literature
