Paul Lynch, Nathaniel Rivers

And Network Theorizing Knowledge Work Telecommunications:

Network Clay Spinuzzi, 2008-09-29 How does a telecommunications company function when its right hand often doesn't know what its left hand is doing How do rapidly expanding interdisciplinary organizations hold together and perform their knowledge work In this book Clay Spinuzzi draws on two warring theories of work activity activity theory and actor network theory to examine the networks of activity that make a telecommunications company work and thrive In doing so Spinuzzi calls a truce between the two theories bringing them to the negotiating table to parley about work Specifically about network the coordinative work that connects coordinates and stabilizes polycontextual work activities To develop this uneasy dialogue Spinuzzi examines the texts trades and technologies at play at Telecorp both historically and empirically Drawing on both theories Spinuzzi provides new insights into how network actually works and how our theories and research methods can be extended to better understand it Thinking with Bruno Latour in Rhetoric and Composition Paul Lynch, Nathaniel Rivers, 2015-04-20

Best known for his books We Have Never Been Modern Laboratory Life and Science in Action Bruno Latour has inspired scholarship across many disciplines In the past few years the fields of rhetoric and composition have witnessed an explosion of interest in Latour's work Editors Paul Lynch and Nathaniel Rivers have assembled leading and emerging scholars in order to focus the debate on what Latour means for the study of persuasion and written communication Essays in this volume discern rearticulate and occasionally critique rhetoric and composition's growing interest in Latour These contributions include work on topics such as agency argument rhetorical history pedagogy and technology among others Contributors explain key terms identify implications of Latour's work for rhetoric and composition and explore how his theories might inform writing pedagogies and be used to build research methodologies Thinking with Bruno Latour in Rhetoric and Composition shows how Latour's groundbreaking theories on technology agency and networks might be taken up enriched and extended to challenge scholars in rhetorical studies both English and communications composition and writing studies to rethink some of the field's most basic assumptions It is set to become the standard introduction that will appeal not only to those scholars already interested in Latour but also those approaching Latour for the first time

Computer Games and Technical Communication Jennifer deWinter, Ryan M. Moeller, 2016-05-23 Taking as its point of departure the fundamental observation that games are both technical and symbolic this collection investigates the multiple intersections between the study of computer games and the discipline of technical and professional writing Divided into five parts Computer Games and Technical Communication engages with questions related to workplace communities and gamified simulations industry documentation manuals gameplay and ethics training testing and number crunching and the work of games and gamifying work In that computer games rely on a complex combination of written verbal visual algorithmic audio and kinesthetic means to convey information technical and professional writing scholars are uniquely poised to investigate the intersection between the technical and symbolic aspects of the computer game complex The contributors to this volume bring to bear the analytic tools of the field to interpret the roles of communication production and consumption in this increasingly ubiquitous technical and symbolic medium Cross-Cultural Technology Design Huatong Sun,2012-02-24 This book explores how to create culture sensitive technology for local users in an increasingly globalized world with rising participatory culture Illustrated with a cross cultural study of mobile messaging use Sun presents an innovative framework integrating action and meaning through a dialogical cyclical design process to create usable and meaningful technology

Wicked, Incomplete, and Uncertain Jason Swarts,2018-09-01 Technology users are compulsive integrators hybridizers and bricoleurs whose unpredictable applications and innovations create a challenging task for support documentation writers In Wicked Incomplete and Uncertain Jason Swarts shows how to document technologies that may hybridize into forms that not even their designers would have anticipated and offers insight into the evolving role of a technical writer in an age of increasing user reliance on YouTube tutorials message boards and other resources for guidance Technical writers traditionally create large volumes of idealized tasks and procedures in help documentation but this is no longer the only approach or even the best approach Shifting responsibility for user support to users via crowdsourcing is a risky alternative Just as with other mass collaborative enterprises contributors to a forum may not be aware of the kind of knowledge they are creating or how their contributions connect with those made by others Wicked Incomplete and Uncertain describes the kinds of writing and help practices in which user forums engage why users seem to find these forums credible and appealing and what companies can learn about building user communities to support this form of assistance Through investigation of user forum activities Swarts identifies a new set of contributions that technical communicators can make not only by creating content but also by curating content shaping conversations feeding information back into the user community and opening channels of discovery and knowledge creation that can speak to users and software developers alike Argument as Dialogue Across Difference Jennifer Clifton,2016-11-25 In the spirit of models of argument starting with inquiry this book starts with a question What might it mean to teach argument in ways that open up spaces for change changes of mind changes of practice and policy changes in ways of talking and relating The author explores teaching argument in ways that take into account the complexities and pluralities young people face as they attempt to enact local and global citizenship with others who may reasonably disagree The focus is foremost on social action the hard hopeful work of finding productive ways forward in contexts where people need to work together across difference to get something worthwhile done Genre and the Performance of Publics Mary Jo Reiff,Anis Bawarshi,2016-03-01 In recent decades genre studies has focused attention on how genres mediate social activities within workplace and academic settings Genre and the Performance of Publics moves beyond institutional settings to explore public contexts that are less hierarchical broadening the theory of how genres contribute to the interconnected and dynamic performances of public life Chapters examine how genres develop within publics and how genres tend to mediate performances in public domains setting up a discussion between public sphere scholarship and rhetorical genre studies The volume extends the understanding of genres as not only social ways of organizing texts or mediating relationships within institutions but as dynamic performances themselves By exploring how genres shape the formation of publics Genre and the Performance of Publics brings rhetoric composition and public sphere studies into dialogue and enhances the understanding of public genre performances in ways that contribute to research on and teaching of public discourse

Interdisciplinary Models and Tools for Serious Games: Emerging Concepts and Future Directions Van Eck, Richard, 2010-03-31 This book discusses the need for interdisciplinary awareness in the study of games and learning Provided by publisher Communicating Race, Ethnicity, and Identity in Technical Communication

Miriam Williams, Octavio Pimentel, 2016-12-05 The purpose of this book is to move our field's discussion beyond issues of diversity in the practice of technical communication which is certainly important to include discussions of how race and ethnicity inform the production and distribution of technical communication in the United States Equally important this book is an attempt to uncover those communicative practices used to adversely affect historically marginalized groups and identify new practices that can be used to encourage cultural competence within institutions and communities This book like our field is an interdisciplinary effort While all authors have taught or practiced technical communication their backgrounds include studies in technical communication rhetoric and composition creative writing and higher education For the sake of clarity the book is organized into five sections historical representations of race and ethnicity in health and science communication social justice and activism in technical communication considerations of race and ethnicity in social media users right to their own language and communicating identity across borders cultures and disciplines Practice Theory and Education

Julianne Lynch, Julie Rowlands, Trevor Gale, Andrew Skourdoumbis, 2016-11-25 Practice Theory and Education challenges how we think about practice examining what it means across different fields and sites It is organised into four themes discursive practices practice change and organisations practising subjectivity and professional practice public policy and education Contributors to the collection engage and extend practice theory by drawing on the legacies of diverse social and cultural theorists including Bourdieu de Certeau Deleuze and Guattari Dewey Latour Marx and Vygotsky and by building on the theoretical trajectories of contemporary authors such as Karen Barad Yrjo Engeström Andreas Reckwitz Theodore Schatzki Dorothy Smith and Charles Taylor The proximity of ideas from different fields and theoretical traditions in the book highlight key matters of concern in contemporary practice thinking including the historicity of practice the nature of change in professional practices the place of discursive material in practice the efficacy of refiguring conventional understandings of subjectivity and agency and the capacity for theories of practice to disrupt conventional understandings of asymmetries of power and resources Their juxtaposition also points to areas of contestation and raises important questions for future research Practice Theory and Education will appeal to postgraduate students academics and researchers in professional practice and education and scholars working with social theory It will be of particular interest to those who wish to move beyond the limiting configurations of practice found in contemporary neoliberal new managerialist and narrow representationalist discourses
