Historical Foundations of Education Theodore Michael Christou, 2023-03-23 This volume considers history as a foundational discipline in education It shows how history is a means for exploring what it means to be human by considering those stories sources forces and contexts that shape the way we construct narratives History is more than content no matter what we might recall from our experiences in schools The volume shows how studying history is one means of uncovering why institutions beliefs policies and practices are as they are Educational structures are like all things mutable History empowers the individual to be an actor in this process of change and to act judiciously About the Educational Foundations series Education as an academic field taught at universities around the world emerged from a range of older foundational disciplines The Educational Foundations series comprises six volumes each covering one of the foundational disciplines of philosophy history sociology policy studies economics and law This is the first reference work to provide an authoritative and up to date account of all six disciplines showing how each field's ideas methods theories and approaches can contribute to research and practice in education today The six volumes cover the same set of key topics within education which also form the chapter titles Mapping the Field Purposes of Education Curriculum Schools and Education Systems Learning and Human Development Teaching and Teacher Education Assessment and Evaluation This structure allows readers to study the volumes in isolation by discipline or laterally by topic and facilitates a comparative thematic reading of chapters across the volumes Throughout the series attention is paid to how the disciplines comprising the educational foundations speak to social justice concerns such as gender and racial equality Shaping the

Bar Joan Howarth, 2022-12-13 The comprehensive source on attorney licensing and how to reform it In Shaping the Bar Joan Howarth describes how the twin gatekeepers of the legal profession law schools and licensers are failing the public Attorney licensing should be laser focused on readiness to practice law with the minimum competence of a new attorney According to Howarth requirements today are both too difficult and too easy Amid the crisis in unmet legal services record numbers of law school graduates disproportionately people of color are failing bar exams that are not meaningful tests of competence to practice At the same time after seven years of higher education hundreds of thousands of dollars of law school debt two months of cramming legal rules and success on a bar exam a candidate can be licensed to practice law without ever having been in a law office or even seen a lawyer with a client Howarth makes the case that the licensing rituals familiar to generations of lawyers unfocused law degrees and obsolete bar exams are protecting members of the profession more than the public Beyond explaining the failures of the current system this book presents the latest research on competent lawyering and examples of better approaches This book presents the path forward by means of licensing changes to protect the public while building an inclusive diverse competent ethical profession Thoughtful and engaging Shaping the Bar is both an authoritative account of attorney licensing and a pragmatic handbook for overdue equitable reform of a powerful profession
