Art Restoration The Culture The Business And The Scandal:

Art Restoration James Beck, Michael Daley, 1993 The world's art heritage is under attack from the very people charged with its preservation argues this important book which has ignited controversy among art historians curators and restorers In the world's museums and in towns and cities throughout Europe misguided restoration efforts are having irreversible often tragic effects on masterpieces by Piero della Francesca Leonardo da Vinci Michelangelo Raphael Titian and many other artists What roles do aesthetic institutional and commercial factors play in the decision to restore a work of art How can we prevent or halt projects in which a work of art is not restored but irreparably damaged James Beck and Michael Daley explore these questions in the context of restoration projects in Florence at the Sistine Chapel in Rome and in museums in France England and the United States They sound an alarm that must be heeded if we are to preserve the world's art for future generations Art Restoration James H. Beck, 1993 Art and restoration, 2021 The Art Gallery on Stage

Mariacristina Cavecchi, 2024-03-21 Winner of the AIA Associazione Italiana di Anglistica Book Prize 2024 The Art Gallery on Stage is the first book to consider the representation of the art gallery on the contemporary British stage and to discuss how playwrights have begun to regard it as inspiration location focus or theme in an ever more intense game of cross fertilization The study analyzes the impact on dramatic form and theatrical presentation of what has been a paradigmatic shift in the way art galleries and museums display their collections and how these are perceived establishing a hitherto unexplored connection between modes of exhibiting and modes of representation It traces a trajectory from plays that were initially performed in traditional theatres in accordance with a naturalistic play structure to plays that favour of a radical reconfiguration of visual representation Indeed since the beginning of the new millennium playwrights and theatre makers have increasingly experimented with new dramatic forms and site specific venues while forging collaborations with art makers and curators The book focuses on plays from the 1980s onwards such as Howard Barker's Scenes from an Execution Nick Dear's The Art of Success Alan Bennett's A Question of Attribution Timberlake Wertenbaker's Three Birds Alighting on a Field and The Line David Edgar's Pentecost Martin Crimp's Attempt on Her Life Rebecca Lenkiewicz's Shoreditch Madonna and The Painter David Leddy's Long Live the Little Knife and Tim Crouch's My Arm An Oak Tree and England and considers the vital contribution to the field made by set designers Ultimately through this study we come to understand how modern drama can offer a set of interpretative tools to enhance our understanding of the mechanisms underlying the social construction of art and furthermore the potential of theatre and the gallery space to question our fundamental cultural assumptions and values Conservation Alison Richmond, Alison Bracker, 2010-07-15 Conservation Principles Dilemmas and Uncomfortable Truths presents multi perspective critical analyses of the ethics and principles that guide the conservation of works of art and design archaeological artefacts buildings monuments and heritage sites on behalf of society Contributors from the fields of philosophy sociology history art and design history museology conservation architecture and planning and public policy address a wide range of conservation principles practices and theories from the US Canada Europe Australia and New Zealand encouraging the reader to make comparisons across subjects and disciplines By wrestling with and offering ways of disentangling the ethical dilemmas confronting those who maintain and sustain cultural heritage for today and tomorrow Conservation Principles Dilemmas and Uncomfortable Truths provides an essential reference text for conservation professionals museum and heritage professionals art and cultural historians lecturers and students and all others invested in cultural heritage theories and practices Alison Richmond as a Senior Conservator in the Victoria and Albert Museum and Deputy Head of the Conservation Department at the Royal College of Art maintains teaching and research roles in conservation theory principles and ethics and has developed decision making tools for conservators She is an Accredited Conservator Restorer ACR a Fellow of the International Institute for Conservation FIIC and a Trustee of the UK's Institute of Conservation Icon since 2005 Alison Bracker received her PhD in the History of Art from the University of Leeds and manages the Events Lectures programme at the Royal Academy of Arts in London As co founder of Bracker Fiske Consultants she advises on the presentation description documentation and care of artworks comprising modern media and lectures and publishes widely on the theoretical and practical issues arising from the conservation of non traditional and impermanent materials in contemporary works of art

Art David A. Scott, 2016-12-31 This book presents a detailed account of authenticity in the visual arts from the Paleolithic to the postmodern The restoration of works of art can alter the perception of authenticity and may result in the creation of fakes and forgeries These interactions set the stage for the subject of this book which initially examines the conservation perspective then continues with a detailed discussion of notions of authenticity and philosophical background There is a disputed territory between those who view the present day cult of authenticity as fundamentally flawed and those who have analyzed its impact upon different cultural milieus operating across performative contested and fragmented ground The book discusses several case studies where the ideas of conceptual authenticity aesthetic authenticity and material authenticity can be incorporated into an informative discourse about art from the ancient to the contemporary illuminating concerns relating to restoration and art forgery

Curating Opera Stephen Mould, 2021-02-09 Curation as a concept and a catchword in modern parlance has over recent decades become deeply ingrained in modern culture The purpose of this study is to explore the curatorial forces at work within the modern opera house and to examine the functionalities and processes that guide them In turn comparisons are made with the workings of the traditional art museum where artworks are studied preserved restored displayed and contextualised processes which are also present in the opera house Curatorial roles in each institution are identified and described and the role of the celebrity art curator is compared with that of the modern stage director who has acquired previously undreamt of licence to interrogate operatic works overlaying them with new concepts and levels of meaning in order to reinvent and redefine the operatic repertoire for contemporary needs A point of coalescence between the opera house and the art museum is identified with the transformation towards the end of the nineteenth century of the opera house into the operatic museum Curatorial practices in the opera house are examined and further communalities and synergies in the way that works are defined in each institution are explored This study also considers the so called birth of opera around the start of the seventeenth century with reference to the near contemporary rise of the modern art museum outlining operatic practice and performance history over the last 400 years in order to identify the curatorial practices that have historically been employed in the maintenance and development of the repertoire This examination of the forces of curation within the modern opera house will highlight aspects of authenticity authorial intent preservation restoration and historically informed performance practice
