Art And Illusion A Study In The Psychology Of Pictorial Representation Bollingen:

Art and Illusion Ernst Hans Gombrich, 1969 Art and Illusion Ernst Hans Gombrich, 1972 Art and Illusion E. H. Gombrich, 2023-10-17 A groundbreaking account of perception and art from one of the twentieth century's most important art historians E. H. Gombrich is widely considered to be one of the most influential art historians of the twentieth century and Art and Illusion is generally agreed to be his most important book Bridging science and the humanities this classic work examines the history and psychology of pictorial representation in light of modern theories of information and learning in visual perception Searching for a rational explanation of the changing styles of art Gombrich reexamines ideas about the imitation of nature and the function of tradition In testing his arguments he ranges over the history of art from the ancient Greeks Leonardo and Rembrandt to the impressionists and the cubists But the triumphant originality of Art and Illusion is that Gombrich is less concerned with the artists than with the psychological experience of the viewers of their work Please note All images in this ebook are presented in black and white and have been reduced in size Art and Illusion Ernst Hans Gombrich, 1984 Robert Smithson Ann Reynolds, 2004-10-01 An examination of the interplay between cultural context and artistic practice in the work of Robert Smithson Robert Smithson 1938 1973 produced his best known work during the 1960s and early 1970s a period in which the boundaries of the art world and the objectives of art making were questioned perhaps more consistently and thoroughly than any time before or since In Robert Smithson Ann Reynolds elucidates the complexity of Smithson's work and thought by placing them in their historical context a context greatly enhanced by the vast archival materials that Smithson's widow Nancy Holt donated to the Archives of American Art in 1987 The archive provides Reynolds with the remnants of Smithson's working life magazines postcards from other artists notebooks and perhaps most important his library from which she reconstructs the physical and conceptual world that Smithson inhabited Reynolds explores the relation of Smithson's art making thinking about art making writing and interaction with other artists to the articulated ideology and discreet assumptions that determined the parameters of artistic practice of the time A central focus of Reynolds's analysis is Smithson's fascination with the blind spots at the center of established ways of seeing and thinking about culture For Smithson New Jersey was such a blind spot and he returned there again and again alone and with fellow artists to make art that through its location alone undermined assumptions about what and more important where art should be For those who guarded the integrity of the established art world New Jersey was elsewhere but for Smithson elsewheres were the defining if often forgotten locations on the map of contemporary culture The Fiction of Truth Carolynn Van Dyke, 2019-06-30 The Fiction of Truth offers a rigorous reexamination of allegory Rejecting the traditional notion that allegory says thing and means another Carolynn Van Dyke proposes a new definition of the genre derived both from contemporary critical theory and from the practice of medieval and Renaissance allegorists Allegories Van Dyke asserts differ from other kinds of narrative in the syntactic rules that seem to generate their plots Through a reading of Prudentius

Psychomachia the earliest allegory Van Dyke formulates a semiotic code that she finds implicit in allegorical works She shows how allegorists adopted and altered that code in such works as The Romance of the Rose medieval morality plays The Pilgrim s Progress The Divine Comedy and The Faerie Queene Her book is both a bold theoretical examination of allegory and a history of its evolution over the twelve centuries during which it played a major even a dominant role in Western literature

Engaging the Other: 'Japan' and Its Alter-Egos, 1550-1850 Ronald P. Toby, 2019-01-21 In Engaging the Other Japan and Its Alter Egos 1550 1850 Ronald P Toby examines new discourses of identity and difference in early modern Japan a discourse catalyzed by the Iberian irruption the appearance of Portuguese and other new radical others in the sixteenth century The encounter with peoples and countries unimagined in earlier discourse provoked an identity crisis a paradigm shift from a view of the world as comprising only three countries sangoku i e Japan China and India to a world of myriad countries bankoku and peoples In order to understand the new radical alterities the Japanese were forced to establish new parameters of difference from familiar proximate others i e China Korea and Ryukyu Toby examines their articulation in literature visual and performing arts law and customs

The Religious Paintings of Hendrick ter Brugghen Natasha T. Seaman, 2017-07-05 The first in depth study of the Utrecht artist to address questions beyond connoisseurship and attribution this book makes a significant contribution to Ter Brugghen and Northern Caravaggist studies Focusing on the Dutch master s simultaneous use of Northern archaisms with Caravaggio s motifs and style Natasha Seaman nuances our understanding of Ter Brugghen s appropriations from the Italian painter Her analysis centers on four paintings all depicting New Testament subjects They include Ter Brugghen s largest and first known signed work Crowning with Thorns his most archaizing the Crucifixion and the two paintings most directly related to the works of Caravaggio the Doubting Thomas and the Calling of Matthew By examining the ways in which Ter Brugghen s paintings deliberately diverge from Caravaggio s Seaman sheds new light on the Utrecht artist and his work For example she demonstrates that where Caravaggio s paintings are boldly illusionistic and mimetic thus de emphasizing their materiality Ter Brugghen s works examined here create the opposite effect connecting their content to their made form This study not only illuminates the complex meanings of the paintings addressed here but also offers insights into the image debates and the status of devotional art in Italy and Utrecht in the seventeenth century by examining one artist s response to them

The Pineapple from Domestication to Commodification Victoria Avery, Melissa Calaresu, 2025-10-15 The pineapple s discovery by European colonisers in the late fifteenth century and its remarkable global trajectory from an early modern object of rarity desire and horticultural innovation to a cheap canned consumable and fair trade logo today is a story of modern globalisation The Pineapple from Domestication to Commodification is a wide ranging interdisciplinary volume intended to provoke timely debate and generate radical rethinking of an overly familiar fruit with associations from luxury to kitsch It deliberately problematizes the pineapple by investigating understudied tensions between its representational power and the historical and political contexts of its worldwide production and consumption This connects the global and local at the heart of contemporary debates about the nature and origins of our food It will have cross disciplinary appeal for scholars of politics economics history plant sciences food and material culture as well as for broader audiences interested in food gardening the environment and visual arts

Brain of the Earth's Body Donald Preziosi, 2003 What begins as a meditation on the museum by one of the world's leading art historians becomes in this book a far reaching critical examination of how art history and museums have guided and controlled not only the way we look at art but the ways in which we understand modernity itself Originally delivered as the 2001 Slade Lectures in the Fine Arts at Oxford University the book makes its deeply complex argument remarkably accessible and powerfully clear Concentrating on a period from the beginning of the nineteenth century to the beginning of the twentieth Donald Preziosi presents case studies of major institutions that he argues have defined and are still defining the possible limits of museological and art historical theory and practice These include Sir John Soane's Museum in London preserved in its 1837 state the Crystal Palace Exhibition of 1851 and four museums founded by Europeans in Egypt in the late nineteenth century which divided up that country's history into ethnically marked aesthetic hierarchies and genealogies that accorded with Europe's construction of itself as the present of the world's past and the brain of the earth's body

Through this epistemological and institutional archaeology Preziosi unearths the outlines of the more radical Enlightenment project that academic art history professional museology and art criticism have rendered marginal or invisible Finally he sketches a new theory about art artifice and visual signification in the cracks and around the margins of the secular theologisms of the globalized imperial capital called modernity Addressed equally to the theoretical and philosophical foundations of art history museology history and anthropology this book goes to the heart of recent debates about race ethnicity nationality colonialism and multiculturalisms and to the very foundations of modernity and modern modes of knowledge production
