Art And The Beauty Of God A Christian Understanding Contemporary Christian Insights:

Art and the Beauty of God Richard Harries, 2005-01-01 British bishop argues for a distinctively Christian approach to art Art and the Beauty of God Richard Harries, 2000 Art and the Beauty of God Richard Harries, 2000-01-01 In recent centuries with the notable exception of Hans Urs von Balthasar Christian theology has failed to find a proper place for beauty The Bishop of Oxford Richard Harries shows how a biblical faith can give a key place to beauty and he argues for a distinctively Christian approach to art that is also sensitive to the spiritual dimension in all art Originally published in 1993 Art and the Beauty of God was selected by Anthony Burgess as his book of the year This reprinted edition makes Harries eloquent study available again A Life Giving Way Esther De Waal, 2006-05-01 Is it surprising that a sixth century monastic text the Rule of St Benedict should be a guide for lay Christians living in today's world In fact the questions which St Benedict had to face are still questions which face us today How do I live with others With the world With myself With God How do I bring balance into my life St Benedict speaks to the heart and this commentary approaches the Rule in a prayerful and reflective way It will help many people who today are seeking a contemplative centre in a busy life St Benedict's writing is steeped in scripture In the Middle Ages his rule was seen as a digest of the Bible It therefore crosses the divides of the church and speaks to Christians of all denominations After the Evil Richard Harries, 2003-07-03 This text develops the work of Jewish scholarship to discern resonances between central Christian and Jewish beliefs Offering fresh approaches to contentious and sensitive issues it argues that God's basic covenant is not with either Judaism or Christianity but with humanity Holy Spirit C. F. D. Moule, 2000-10-01 During recent years the Christian church has taken stock of its beliefs In the course of the last century Christian theology has had many challenges to meet and has not remained unchanged by the encounter There have been radical questionings of almost every aspect of doctrine Yet people are more willing now than ever to listen to constructive voices Christians are in search of a way to articulate faith in God Father Son and Holy Spirit hold convictions about the nature of man and his destiny and show the relevance of belief to conduct The author gives a plain and intellectual statement of what faith is and how it can honestly and meaningfully be expressed today Religion and the Arts, 2001 Religion and the Arts is devoted to the study of this rapidly expanding interdisciplinary field It aims among other things to promote the development of discourses for exploring the religious dimensions of the verbal visual and performing arts Sense and Spirituality James McCullough, 2015-06-02 There is growing interest in the relationship between the arts and Christian faith Much has been written about the arts and theology and the place of the arts in church life Not as much has been written however about how the arts might actually advance spiritual formation in terms of the cumulative effect of religious experience and intentional practices This book provides a modest step forward in that conversation a conversation between theological aesthetics and practical theology Understanding aesthetics as the realm of sense perception and spiritual formation as growing capacities to participate in God's purposes James McCullough suggests how these dynamics can mutually enhance each other with the arts as an effective catalyst for this relationship McCullough proposes an analysis of artistic communication and explores exciting examples from music poetry and painting which render theoretical proposals in concrete terms This book will engage both those new to the arts and those already deeply familiar with them Calvinism for a Secular Age Jessica R. Joustra, Robert J. Joustra, 2022-02-08 Pastor politician and Dutch Neo Calvinist theologian Abraham Kuyper s lectures on the role of Christian faith in politics science and art have become a touchstone of contemporary Reformed theology Revisiting these lectures Jessica and Robert Joustra bring together theologians historians scientists and others to consider Kuyper s ongoing importance and complex legacy for today

Theology as Performance Philip Stoltzfus, 2006-06-05 Theology as Performance breaks new ground in the growing conversation between modern theology and philosophical aesthetics Stoltzfus proposes that significant moments in the Western development of the concept of God in particular as represented in the figures of Friedrich Schleiermacher Karl Barth and Ludwig Wittgenstein have been deeply influenced by concepts and approaches borrowed from the discipline of musical aesthetics Each thinker develops fundamentally different ways of writing about God that have in significant respects been derived from each one s reading and writing about music The aesthetic implications of Schleiermacher s so called subjectivist turn Barth s objectivist reaction and Wittgenstein s language game pragmatism can thus be fully understood only by attending to the musical culture and distinctly musicological discourses that gave rise to them Stoltzfus constructs two trajectories of thought with which to trace theological reflection upon music throughout the pre modern period the traditions of Orpheus and Pythagoras Schleiermacher s aesthetic approach then becomes a modern representative of the Orpheus trajectory and Barth s approach a representative of the Pythagoras trajectory Stoltzfus interprets Wittgenstein as putting forward a radical critique of these trajectories and pointing toward a third performative theological aesthetic method Theology as Performance offers a provocative rethinking of the aesthetic roots of modern theology
