In this first major study of the church Anthea Butler examines the religious and social lives of the women in the COGIC Women's Department from its founding in 1911 through the mid 1960s. She finds that the sanctification or spiritual purity that these women sought earned them social power both in the church and in the black community. Offering rich, lively accounts of the activities of the Women's Department founders and other members Butler shows that the COGIC women of the early decades were able to challenge gender roles and to transcend the limited responsibilities that otherwise would have been assigned to them both by churchmen and by white dominated society. The Great Depression, World War II and the civil rights movement brought increased social and political involvement and the Women's Department worked to make the sanctified world of the church interact with the broader American society. More than just a community of church mothers says Butler COGIC women utilized their spiritual authority, power and agency to further their contestation and negotiation of gender roles in the church and beyond. Prayer and Bible Band Topics Winter Quarter 2021-2022 Lee Van Zandt, 2021-11-01 The Prayer and Bible Band Topics are an excellent source for those who desire to know more about God's will for their lives through Bible study and practical application. Mathews, 2005-10-12 This collection of essays examines religion in the American South across three centuries from the beginning of the eighteenth century to the civil rights movement of the 1960s. The first collection published on the subject in fifteen years Religion in the American South builds upon a new generation of scholarship to push scholarly conversation about the field to a new level of sophistication by complicating southern religion geographically, chronologically and thematically and by challenging the interpretive hegemony of the Bible belt. Contributors demonstrate the importance of religion in the South not only to American religious history but also to the history of the nation as a whole.

They show that religion touched every corner of society from the nightclub to the lynching tree from the church sanctuary to the kitchen hearth These essays will stimulate discussions of a wide variety of subjects including eighteenth century religious history conversion narratives religion and violence the cultural power of prayer the importance of women in exploiting religious contexts in innovative ways and the interracialism of southern religious history Contributors Kurt O Berends University of Notre Dame Emily Bingham Louisville Kentucky Anthea D Butler Loyola Marymount University Paul Harvey University of Colorado Colorado Springs Jerma Jackson University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Lynn Lyerly Boston College Donald G Mathews University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill Jon F Sensbach University of Florida Beth Barton Schweiger University of Arkansas Daniel Woods Ferrum College Prayer and Bible Band Topics Spring Quarter 2021
