Brown County Oh Images Of America:

Brown County Greg Haitz, Lisa Haitz, 2006 The history of Brown County has been shaped largely by the Ohio River It has allowed farmers and industries to transport their products and provided recreation entertainment and travel opportunities to the residents of the community Even though flooding of the river brought destruction many times it also enabled freedom for thousands of slaves Under abolitionist leaders like John Rankin and John Parker parts of Brown County became known as the Grand Central Station of the Underground Railroad Interesting and notable Brown County natives include Ulysses S Grant who grew up to command one of the largest armies ever assembled and later became president of the United States Col Charles Young the third African American to graduate from West Point and a military attache to Liberia Rosie Riles better known as Aunt Jemima and Joe Smith who inadvertently helped Louis Armstrong s career also hailed from this great county

George Washington Mefford 1818 1898 was a circuit riding pioneer preacher for what was known as The Christian Church affiliated with the Christian Connection Connexion movement during the mid to late nineteenth century George Washington Mefford was based near Levanna Brown County Ohio just steps from the Ohio River His ministry consisted of preaching in small churches in small towns up and down the banks of the Ohio River valley This book offers information about The Christian Connection Connexion movement The Stone Campbell movement The Christian Church and The Disciples of Christ This book contains George Washington Mefford s writings from his personal journals pictures letters and other documents that verify who he was and his connection to the early pioneer Christian Church as families migrated west across the United States into what was once known as the Northwest Territory Wildlife Abstracts U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service,1954

Wildlife Abstracts ,1976 Almost Famous: Thomas Lyon Hamer, the Congressman Who Made Ulysses Simpson Grant Lonnie Brett Griffith,2018-05-30 The name Thomas Lyon Hamer only brings puzzled looks when spoken today Even in Georgetown Ohio Hamers home and place of burial only a handful of local historians have any knowledge of the man whom U S Grant believed would have been president of the United States had he not died prematurely and unexpectedly I have said before that Hamer was one of the ablest men Ohio ever produced I have always believed that had his life been spared he would have been president of the United States during the term filled by President Pierce his partiality for me was such there is but little doubt I should have been appointed to one of the staff corps of the army the Pay Department probably and would therefore now be preparing to retire Neither of these speculations are unreasonable and they are mentioned to show how little men control their own destiny Grant 53 Yet if the man had lived even another year or two he would not only be in all United States history textbooks that history would likely be quite different The national events in the decade leading up to the American Civil War and possibly the outcome of the war itself would have been significantly altered Fate is a fickle mistress Hamer was very well known in his day and it is perplexing to try to understand how someone so influential while alive was virtually forgotten even locally by the turn of the twentieth century Perhaps it is because he was eclipsed by another very important individual from Georgetown Ohio who did become president Perhaps it is because Hamers sons died young and childless leaving no direct heirs to carry his name and fame into the future Hamers Mexican War flag a gift to him from the people of Brown County Ohio photo courtesy of Ron Bulow The History of Brown County, Ohio ,1972 Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 United States.
