Between Conformity and Resistance Petra Dannecker, 2002 Everyday Life of Ready-made Garment Kormi in Bangladesh Mohammad Tareq Hasan, 2022-07-15 This book portrays the scene where corporate international trade agreements a new neoliberal state regime and a growing textile market have contributed to the becoming of a new class of Muslim female workers who labor in Bangladesh's apparel export factories under conditions of neoliberal capitalism The garment kormi often abstracted by the homogenizing category of the garment worker remain lost in the statistics of development and empowerment or contrarily exploitation Thereby focusing on the everyday lives of garment kormi i.e workers stories than on the collective of garment workers as a category this book at one front highlights the neoliberal structures of difference and inequality and on the other reflects on the potential of egalitarianism and change in terms of novel ways of comprising and expressing life worlds It shows that the values in life and the structures that govern life such as contemporary Bangladesh's neoliberal order kinship relationality and religiosity are co constitutive multi layered and always on the move never fixed inhabited by people of different races and religions and ruled over by different leaders who imposed different regimes It is overpopulated and underdeveloped but there is much more to it than that Bangladesh has a long and oftentimes proud tradition it has produced writers and artists of genius and it is an important outpost of Islam And with a population of some 130 million it is one of the larger countries in the world The fourth edition of the Historical Dictionary of Bangladesh greatly expands on the previous edition through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and over 700 cross referenced dictionary entries on important people places events and institutions as well as significant political economic social and cultural aspects

The Power to Choose Naila Kabeer,2020-05-05 In this path breaking study social economist Naila Kabeer examines the lives of Bangladeshi garment workers in Bangladesh and Britain to shed light on the question of what constitutes fair competition in international trade She argues that if the unhealthy coalition of multinationals and labor movements is truly seeking to improve the working conditions for women and children in the Third World as well as those of western workers their efforts should be directed away from an attempt to impose labor standards and towards a support for the organization of labor rights Any attempt to devise acceptable labor standards at an international level which takes no account of the forces of inclusion and exclusion with local labor movements is she further argues likely to represent the interests of the powerful at the expense of those of the weak
