Lars-Christer Hydén, Hilde Lindemann and Jens Brockmeier (eds), Beyond loss: dementia, identity, personhood, Oxford University Press: UK, 2014; 224 pp. ISBN: 978-0-19-996926-5, £35.99, (hardback)

The notion of loss is central to popular as well as medical conceptions of dementia. Different cognitive and linguistic losses involved in the progression of the illness are the focus of much attention. As its title suggests, the edited book Beyond Loss: Dementia, Identity, Personhood seeks to move beyond this well-established focus on loss. Instead, it puts forth an understanding of dementia in terms of transformation of personhood and identity that is shared with others and takes place within a larger social context. Gathering contributions from a range of disciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, such as the caring and health sciences, nursing, psychology, philosophy, medical anthropology, gerontology, neuropsychology, linguistics and communication studies, this book explores how persons with conditions of dementia (particularly Alzheimer's disease), remain active agents in communicating with others, navigating and making sense of the world and of their own changing condition.

Beyond Loss seeks to challenge both a deep-rooted focus on the person as an isolated individual and the widespread notion that loss of cognitive and linguistic abilities across the trajectory also implies a progressive loss of selfhood and identity. It takes issue with the traditional view that considers individual cognitive abilities and memory the essence of a person's identity, locating cognitive abilities and personhood exclusively in the brain. In contrast to such a view, each chapter stresses the relational character of personhood and draws attention to different ways in which persons are situated in relation to others and the surrounding social, cultural and physical world. They further point to the formative aspects of these relations and discuss personhood and identity in terms of continuous processes of transformation and change.

The book consists of 12 chapters and is divided into three parts: (1) personhood and dignity, (2) agentive identity and embodiment and (3) communication in families and institutions. The first part on personhood and dignity, with chapters by Hilde Lindemann, Steven R. Sabat, Lennart Nordenfelt and Ingrid Hellström, focuses on the person with dementia in a way that foregrounds remaining abilities and qualities as key for upholding a sense of self and personhood in the face of progressing dementia. The chapters by Nordenfelt and Hellström provide, in different ways, careful and much needed reflection on the meaning(s) of dignity, a notion that has perhaps become taken for granted in discussions on personhood and emptied out of concrete meaning. Beyond Loss Dementia Identity Personhood:

Beyond Loss Lars C. Hydén, Hilde Lindemann, Jens Brockmeier, 2014-05-26 Coming to terms with dementia is one of the great challenges of our time. This volume of new interdisciplinary essays by internationally established scholars offers new ways of understanding and dealing with it. It explores views of dementia that go beyond the idea of loss and rather envisions it as multilayered transformation and change of personhood and identity and as development that mostly is socially shared with others. The studies collected here identify new empirical, theoretical, and methodological areas that will be crucial to future research and clinical practice concerned with age-related dementia. Three general themes are singled out as of particular importance and interest: persons and personhood, identity and agency, and the social and the communal.

Entangled Narratives Lars-Christer Hydén, 2018 As people are living longer on average than ever before, the number of those with dementia will increase. Because many will live a considerable time at home with their diagnosis, we need to know more about the ways people can adapt to and learn to live with dementia in their everyday lives. Lars Christer Hydén argues in this book that to do so will involve reimagining what dementia really is and what it can mean to the afflicted and their loved ones. One of the most important everyday opportunities for sharing experiences is the simple act of storytelling. But when someone close to you gradually loses the ability to tell stories and cherish the shared history you have together, this is seen as a threat to the relationship, to the feeling of belonging together, and to the identity of the person diagnosed. Therefore, learning about how people with dementia can participate in storytelling along with their families and friends helps to sustain those relationships and identities. In Entangled Narratives, Hydén not only emphasizes the possibilities that are inherent in collaborative storytelling but instructs professionals and otherwise healthy relatives to learn how to effectively listen and ultimately re-imagine their patients and loved ones as collaborative meaning makers in their lives.

Human Dignity and Assisted Death Sebastian Muders, 2018 Assisted dying and human dignity are two extremely contested topics in Bioethics. This volume offers the first book-length attempt to bring both together. Its authors develop detailed philosophical analyses of dignity and how it relates to assisted suicide and euthanasia.

Narrative and Mental Health Jarmila Mildorf, Elisabeth Punzi, Christoph Singer, 2023 This book foregrounds the importance of narrative as a conceptual paradigm for understanding mental health issues, presenting stories as an alternative source of knowledge and expression. At the same time, the volume acknowledges potential limitations of narrative paradigms, especially when these are coupled with normative expectations of truthfulness, coherence, and comprehensiveness.

God's Not Forgotten Me Tricia Williams, 2022-05-24 What happens to faith if you get dementia? Does the real you disappear? Does your relationship with God evaporate as neurons begin to disconnect? Will you forget God? Here, the voices of Christians from the evangelical tradition bring insight to the profound questions faith encounters amidst the disorientation of dementia. Even when my brain falls apart, nothing can separate me from the love of God. Faith is stronger. Tricia Williams seeks deeper understanding of their faith experience and practice.

through careful listening and theological reflection within the boundaries of a biblical agenda who I am knowing God experience and practice of faith the shadows of suffering embodied memory spiritual growth and hope for now Fresh theological insights and challenges for the church call for creative practices to nurture the faith of disciples of Jesus who live with this disease They must remind me In this book these voices reveal a growing positive experience of faith in the light of dementia and of hope in Christ Faith does not end with diagnosis God has not forgotten me Chaplaincy and Spiritual Care in Mental Health Settings Jean Fletcher, 2019-08-21 This edited collection about good practice for mental health chaplains and other related professionals looks at how spirituality is viewed across mental health fields It identifies what mental health chaplaincy is how mental health chaplaincy interacts with other organisations like the NHS and what good practice means with examples of positive and fulfilling experiences in mental health settings The chapters consider some of the main issues of working with the mental health community such as the place of volunteers the recovery process religious diversity and patient safety They are followed by uplifting case studies including service user perspectives to provide a valuable overall insight into mental health chaplaincy and its context in wider mental health services Spirituality and Religion Within the Culture of Medicine Dr Michael Balboni, Dr John Peteet, 2017-05-10 Spirituality and Religion Within the Culture of Medicine addresses the need to better understand the broad relevance of religion and spirituality to the culture of medicine The authors focus on the critical need to establish evidence based recommendations for clinicians of various specialties who engage in the spiritual dimension of practice Participatory Case Study Work Sion Williams, John Keady, 2021-01-03 Participatory Case Study Work shows academic co researchers how to adapt and implement their methods so that data collection and analysis is authentically participatory At the heart of this text is advocating a participatory approach to case study work with co construction as a catalyst for shared understanding and action in advancing ageing studies Whilst case study research has a relatively long tradition in the canon of research methodologies little attention has so far been paid to the importance and value of participatory case study work This is surprising as its egalitarian and democratic value base naturally lends itself to the co production and co creation of personal and collective theory drawn directly from lived experience The book brings together over 15 years worth of participatory case study work in ageing studies in which the editors have been actively involved as either front line researchers or as supervisors to PhD and MPhil studies adopting the methodology and from where each of the contributors is selected Real life case examples are shared in the main chapters of the book and they provide direction as to how learning can be applied to other settings The chapters also contain key references and recommended reading This volume will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students as well as postdoctoral researchers interested in fields such as research methods qualitative methods ageing studies and mental health studies The Diseased Brain and the Failing Mind Martina Zimmermann, 2020-06-25 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com It is funded by The Wellcome

Trust The Diseased Brain and the Failing Mind charts changing cultural understandings of dementia and alzheimer s disease in scientific and cultural texts across the 20th Century Reading a range of texts from the US UK Europe and Japan the book examines how the language of dementia regarding the loss of identity loss of agency loss of self and life is rooted in scientific discourse and expressed in popular and literary texts Following changing scientific understandings of dementia the book also demonstrates how cultural expressions of the experience and dementia have fed back into the way medical institutions have treated dementia patients The book includes a glossary of scientific terms for non specialist readers
