Deconstructing the American Mosque Akel Ismail Kahera,2008-10-01 From the avant garde design of the Islamic Cultural Center in New York City to the simplicity of the Dar al Islam Mosque in Abiquiu New Mexico the American mosque takes many forms of visual and architectural expression The absence of a single authoritative model and the plurality of design nuances reflect the heterogeneity of the American Muslim community itself which embodies a whole spectrum of ethnic origins traditions and religious practices In this book Akel Ismail Kahera explores the history and theory of Muslim religious aesthetics in the United States since 1950 Using a notion of deconstruction based on the concepts of jamal beauty subject and object found in the writings of Ibn Arabi d 1240 he interprets the forms and meanings of several American mosques from across the country His analysis contributes to three debates within the formulation of a Muslim aesthetics in North America first over the meaning purpose and function of visual religious expression second over the spatial and visual affinities between American and non American mosques including the Prophet s mosque at Madinah Arabia and third over the relevance of culture place and identity to the making of contemporary religious expression in North America

Valences of Historiography Gevork Hartoonian,2024-12-30 The compiled essays offer various themes and ways of approaching historiography Each chapter probes the state of contemporary theorization of architecture histories working toward the theme of critically re writing history Essential to each author s contribution are specific traditions created by the mole of history burrowing through the past This book concerns the historian s conjectures towards capturing the past and present zeitgeist Temporality is the theme running through the narrative of this volume It raises the question of whether the ever growing body of work on architectural history should be considered as history More specifically what is the intersection between history and architectural history Furthermore can every text focused on architecture s past be considered categorically historiographic In what capacity does architectural history index history beyond contingencies and without reducing the text to empirical realities and the historian s interest in a specific subject including those collected through archival research itself an emblem of textuality This book upholds the conviction that the past should be recalled accurately and that there is no history but historical criticism the scope of which exceeds the historicity of Humanism Dialectically the timeline experienced across contemporary techno economic and cultural domains aesthetics offers an opportunity to explore architecture produced outside the Euro American continents Valences of Historiography offers a fresh take on architectural history that is useful for academics researchers and architecture students

Architecture of the Everyday Deborah Berke,Steven Harris,2012-04-17 Ordinary Banal Quotidian These words are rarely used to praise architecture but in fact they represent the interest of a growing number of architects looking to the everyday to escape the ever quickening cycles of consumption and fashion that have reduced architecture to a series of stylistic fads Architecture of the Everyday makes a plea for an architecture that is emphatically un monumental anti heroic and unconcerned with formal extravagance Edited by

Deborah Berke and Steven Harris this collection of writings photo essays and projects describes an architecture that draws strength from its simplicity use of common materials and relationship to other fields of study Topics range from a website that explores the politics of domesticity to a transformation of the sidewalk in Los Angeles Little Tokyo to a discussion of the work of Robert Venturi and Denise Scott Brown Contributors include Margaret Crawford Peggy Deamer Deborah Fausch Ben Gianni and Mark Robbins Joan Ockman Ernest Pascucci Alan Plattus and Mary Ann Ray Deborah Berke and Steven Harris are currently associate professors of architecture at Yale University and have their own practices in New York City World Architecture ,1997 Television and Postfeminist Housekeeping Elizabeth Nathanson,2013-04-02 In this book Nathanson examines how contemporary American television and associated digital media depict women s everyday lives as homemakers career women and mothers Her focus on American popular culture from the 1990s through the present reveals two extremes narratives about women who cannot keep house and narratives about women who only keep house Nathanson looks specifically at the issue of time in this context and argues that the media constructs panics about domestic time scarcity while at the same time offering solutions for those very panics Analyzing TV programs such as How Clean is Your House Up All Night and Supernanny she finds that media s portrayals of women s time is crucial to understanding definitions of femininity women s labor and leisure in the postfeminist context Mediated Messages Véronique Patteeuw,Léa-Catherine Szacka,2018-06-14 Mediated Messages presents a collection of original writing exploring the role played by the media in the development of postmodern architecture in the 1970s and 80s The book s twelve chapters and case studies examine a range of contemporary periodicals and exhibitions to explore their role in the postmodern This focus on mediation as a key feature of architectural post modernism and the recognition that post modernism grew out of developments in the media opens up the possibility of an important new account of post modernism distinct from existing narratives Accompanied by a contextualizing introduction the essays are arranged across four thematic sections covering images international postmodernisms high and low culture and postmodern architects as theorists and present a range of case studies with a genuinely international scope Altogether this work makes a substantial contribution to the historical account of architectural postmodernism and will be of great interest to researchers in postmodernism as well as those examining the role of the media in architectural history
