The Autopoiesis of Architecture, Volume I Patrik Schumacher, 2011-04-20 Take a theoretical approach to architecture with The Autopoiesis of Architecture which presents the topic as a discipline with its own unique logic Architecture's conception of itself is addressed as well as its development within wider contemporary society Author Patrik Schumacher offers innovative treatment that enriches architectural theory with a coordinated arsenal of concepts facilitating both detailed analysis and insightful comparisons with other domains such as art science and politics He explores how the various modes of communication comprising architecture depend upon each other combine and form a unique subsystem of society that co evolves with other important autopoietic subsystems like art science politics and the economy The first of two volumes that together present a comprehensive account of architecture's autopoiesis this book elaborates the theory of architecture's autopoiesis in 8 parts 50 sections and 200 chapters Each of the 50 sections poses a thesis drawing a central message from the insights articulated within the respective section The 200 chapters are gathering and sorting the accumulated intelligence of the discipline according to the new conceptual framework adopted in order to catalyze and elaborate the new formulations and insights that are then encapsulated in the theses However while the theoretical work in the text of the chapters relies on the rigorous build up of a new theoretical language the theses are written in ordinary language with the theoretical concepts placed in brackets The full list of the 50 theses affords a convenient summary printed as appendix at the end of the book The second volume completes the analysis of the discourse and further proposes a new agenda for contemporary architecture in response to the challenges and opportunities that confront architectural design within the context of current societal and technological developments
