Architecture Order Approaches Material Cultures:

Handbook of Material Culture Chris Tilley, Webb Keane, Susanne Kuechler, Mike Rowlands, Patricia Spyer, 2006-01-05 The study of material culture is concerned with the relationship between persons and things in the past and in the present in urban and industrialized and in small scale societies across the globe The Handbook of Material Culture provides a critical survey of the theories concepts intellectual debates substantive domains and traditions of study characterizing the analysis of things It is cutting edge rather than simply reviewing the field as it currently exists It also attempts to chart the future the manner in which material culture studies may be extended and developed The Handbook of Material Culture is divided into five sections Section I maps material culture studies as a theoretical and conceptual field Section II examines the relationship between material forms the human body and the senses Section III focuses on subject object relations Section IV considers things in terms of processes and transformations in terms of production exchange and consumption performance and the significance of things over the long term Section V considers the contemporary politics and poetics of displaying representing and conserving material and the manner in which this impacts on notions of heritage tradition and identity The Handbook charts an interdisciplinary field of studies that makes an unique and fundamental contribution to an understanding of what it means to be human It will be of interest to all who work in the social and historical sciences from anthropologists and archaeologists to human geographers to scholars working in heritage design and cultural studies     Gender and Material Culture in Archaeological Perspective Moira Donald, Linda Hurcombe, 2000-09-30 Case studies drawn from many different periods and areas develop concepts and theories as diverse as the social contexts of production and artifact     Material Culture Matters John R. Spencer, Robert A. Mullins, Aaron J. Brody, 2014-05-12 Dr Seymour Gitin is completing his tenure as Director and Dorot Professor at the W F Albright Institute of Archaeological Research in Jerusalem Much of his long career has been spent helping young scholars expand their contacts and hone their skills This volume is a collection of articles by some of the many developing scholars and Albright fellows with whom Sy has shared his time and knowledge Their appreciation shows in the quality of their articles the breadth of their interests and their dedication to Sy Gitin The articles range from a discussion of tomb robbing in Palestinian areas to a geographical analysis of the Shephelah region to Islamic historical texts to Israelite cult stands to Middle Bronze Age burials In addition there are several articles by former members of the Tel Migne Ekron staff that draw on the finds from that site and further demonstrate Sy s willingness to mentor and to share the publication of the site s rich trove of materials This book not only honors Dr Gitin by the willingness of fellows to contribute to the volume it also expands our knowledge base of the southern Levant and shows that Material Culture Matters

Material Culture and Sacred Landscape Peter Jordan, 2003-03-12 This study provides a concrete example of how foraging societies enculturate and transform the natural environment and through the use of material objects create sacred spaces and sites Using ethnographic and ethnohistorical information about the Khanty of Siberia Jordan shows the shortcomings of both interpretive and materialist anthropological theorizing about hunters and gatherers He focuses on the rich and complex relationship between the symbolism of the Khanty their material culture and the bringing of meaning to physical places His examination looks at the topic in both historical and contemporary contexts and in scales from the core periphery model of Russian colonialism to the portrait of a single yurt community Jordan s work will be of importance to those studying cultural anthropology archaeology and comparative religion

Religion, Material Culture and Archaeology Julian

Droogan,2012-11-22 Religion Material Culture and Archaeology offers a new understanding of the materiality of religion By drawing on the field of archaeological theory and method the relationship between religion and material culture is explored It is argued that the material elements of religious life have been largely neglected by the discipline of religious studies while at the same time religion has been traditionally seen as problematic for archaeologists Why do we not talk of the discipline of the archaeology of religion in the same way we do the anthropology of religion or the sociology of religion The volume considers the historical problems of approaching the material elements of religious life and bridges the methodological gap between religious studies and archaeology by proposing a new way of understanding the materiality of religion as active engaged and projecting a level of autonomous social agency Finally the critical examination of archaeological approaches to the materiality of religion is furthered through the consideration of non archaeological ways of examining the social roles that material culture plays in human life

Pieter Bruegel and the Culture of the Early Modern Dinner Party Claudia

Goldstein,2017-07-05 Mining a rich interdisciplinary mix of sources including stoneware jugs personal correspondence paintings inventories and literature written for the dining room this study offers a critical and entirely original examination of the function of early modern images for the people who owned and viewed them The study explores the emergence functions and material culture of the Antwerp dinner party during the heady days of the mid sixteenth century when Antwerp s art market was thriving and a new wealthy non noble class dominated the city The author recontextualizes some of Bruegel s work within the cultural nexus of the dining room where material culture and theatrical performance met humanist wit and the desire for professional advancement The narrative also touches on the reception of Northern art in Lombardy on intersections among painting material culture and theater and on intellectual history
