A Mother For Celeste Return Of The African Diaspora:

Return of the African Diaspora Linda Pace Samuel, 2010-06-17 Return of the African Diaspora is a rich tale woven around the saga of a blended African American family whose lives are marred by missed opportunities painful secrets and a mystical love that hangs in the balance Kristin a college professor in the nation s capital is brought face to face with the indisputable link between the African Diaspora and Mother Africa on an impromptu visit to Ghana She had hopes that the trip which she planned as a brief escape from passions for her ex husband would also break through her transcendent connection to the daughter born to his new wife Instead it leads Kristin toward her destiny as she learns to follow the breadcrumbs of synchronicity left for her by the universe Her path takes her far beyond the platform she improvised at Hunter University after returning from her trip where she helped her students connect the dots between big business the origin of racism and other seldom discussed factors of American slavery Kristin taps into the courage of her shero Rosa Parks and their common heritage of growing up in the same neighborhood of Tuskegee Alabama The Skegee Spirit of the predominantly black college town inspires her to reach out to descendants of the captured Africans who lost their footing during the American slave experience She finds motivation in the legacies left by other heroes from her Tuskegee childhood Lewis Adams who hired Booker T Washington as Principal of the new school for former slaves and Dr George Washington Carver the former slave and internationally acclaimed agricultural scientist whose skills in soil science helped to save a flailing southern economy after the Civil War Her s h heroes helped fuel her determination to move forward in finding a solution that would finally free the black American underbelly from its stagnation Though Universal Intelligence reveals that the solution lies in reuniting the African Diaspora with the Motherland Kristin also realizes that the level of effort required to succeed would equate to that required to fit a square peg into a round hole There would be staggering benefits to both sides of the ocean but could it be done Could Kristin do the impossible and lead the way home This intriguing and sometimes comical work of fiction is the first of a two part series that spans nearly three decades Race, Gender, and Citizenship in the African Diaspora Manoucheka Celeste, 2016-07-01 Winner of the National Communication Association s 2018 Diamond Anniversary Book Award With the exception of slave narratives there are few stories of black international migration in U S news and popular culture This book is interested in stratified immigrant experiences diverse black experiences and the intersection of black and immigrant identities Citizenship as it is commonly understood today in the public sphere is a legal issue yet scholars have done much to move beyond this popular view and situate citizenship in the context of economic social and political positioning The book shows that citizenship in all of its forms is often rhetorically representationally and legally negated by blackness and considers the ways that blackness and representations of blackness impact one s ability to travel across national and social borders and become a citizen This book is a story of citizenship and the ways that race gender and class shape national belonging with Haiti Cuba and the United States as the primary sites of examination In Slavery's

Wake Nat'l Mus Afr Am Hist Culture, 2024-10-29 Explore the modern day impact of slavery and colonialism in this panoramic Black history for anti racist readers of 1619 Project and Caste The companion book to a groundbreaking exhibition on African American history and culture with 150 powerful illustrations of people and objects This powerful collection of essays brought to life with more than 150 illustrations investigates the intertwined legacies of slavery freedom and capitalism In Slavery's Wake frames the history of slavery in a global context to show how it created systems of oppression that continue to shape the world today Compelling essays from key historians and scholars trace the contemporary resonances of slavery but also the history of freedom making from abolitionism to enslaved and colonized people asserting their humanity to the Black Lives Matter movement The history is humanized by Art reflecting on liberation including the gorgeous artwork of Daniel Minter Historic and contemporary artifacts that represent enslavement and resistance Poignant interviews of descendants of formerly colonized and enslaved people sharing their lived experiences This book posits that current matters of freedom and equality are only made possible by understanding how past injustices have defined the present making it an essential read for anyone engaged in social justice Poignant and insightful In Slavery's Wake examines the long shadow of slavery and looks toward building a freer future beyond it

The Sides of the Sea Johanna X. K. Garvey, 2024-09-25 In The Sides of the Sea Caribbean Women Writing Diaspora Johanna X K Garvey examines the works of contemporary writers from eight Caribbean countries including Haiti Trinidad and Tobago and the Dominican Republic Authors from Anglophone Francophone and Spanish speaking countries illustrate experiences across the African Diaspora including enslavement colonialism revolt marronage and decolonization Characters in fiction and poetry by such writers as Erna Brodber Jan J Dominique Mayra Santos Febres Tessa McWatt and Dionne Brand confront trauma engage in struggle forge connection and act as agents of change Complicating categories of identification and employing multiple strategies of resistance these Caribbean women writers show us paths out of and beyond the binaries embedded in colonialism and its aftermath As their texts remember moments and sites of trauma beginning with the Middle Passage they embark on new passages claim oceanic spaces and suggest directions that stretch beyond the Black Atlantic to a more complex understanding of how to pull the sides of the sea together in the twenty first century The Sides of the Sea is organized in three sections Plumbing the Depths which examines representations of the Middle Passage and its legacies Voicing the Wounds which explores genealogies inherited trauma and potential healing Unsettling Borders which discusses decolonial epistemologies transgressive sexualities and new visions of citizenship

Carmen in Diaspora Associate Professor of English African & African Diaspora Studies and Comparative Literature Jennifer Wilks, 2024-11-08 Carmen in Diaspora is a cultural history of Carmen adaptations set in African diasporic contexts Beginning with Prosper Mérimée's novella and Georges Bizet's opera and continuing through twentieth and twentieth first century interpretations in literature film and musical theatre the book explores how opera's most famous character has exceeded the 19th century French context in which she was created and taken on a life of her own Through this transformation the Carmen figure has sparked important conversations not only about French culture and canonical opera but also about Black womanhood community and self determination The Things That Fly in the Night Giselle Liza Anatol,2015-02-16 The Things That Fly in the Night explores images of vampirism in Caribbean and African diasporic folk traditions and in contemporary fiction Giselle Liza Anatol focuses on the figure of the soucouyant or Old Hag an aged woman by day who sheds her skin during night s darkest hours in order to fly about her community and suck the blood of her unwitting victims In contrast to the glitz glamour and seductiveness of conventional depictions of the European vampire the soucouyant triggers unease about old age and female power Tracing relevant folklore through the English and French speaking Caribbean the U S Deep South and parts of West Africa Anatol shows how tales of the nocturnal female bloodsuckers not only entertain and encourage obedience in pre adolescent listeners but also work to instill particular values about women s proper place and behaviors in society at large Alongside traditional legends Anatol considers the explosion of soucouyant and other vampire narratives among writers of Caribbean and African heritage who in the past twenty years have rejected the demonic image of the character and used her instead to urge for female mobility racial and cultural empowerment and anti colonial resistance Texts include work by authors as diverse as Nobel Laureate Toni Morrison U S National Book Award winner Edwidge Danticat and science fiction fantasy writers Octavia Butler and Nalo Hopkinson

Narrative Performances of Mothering in South Asian Diasporic Fiction Sarah Knor, 2022-12-30

Examining a range of South Asian Anglophone diasporic fiction and poetry this monograph opens a new dialogue between diaspora studies and gender studies It shows how discourses of diaspora benefit from re examining their own critical relation to concepts of the maternal and the motherland Rather than considering maternity as a fixed or naturally given category it challenges essentialist conceptions and explores mothering as a performative practice which actively produces discursive meaning This innovative approach also involves an investigation of central metaphors in nationalist and diasporic rhetorics bringing critical attention to the strategies they employ and the unique aesthetic forms they produce
