Aspire Publishes Its First Blended Learning :

Go Blended! Liz Arney, 2015-02-02 Craft a blended learning program tailor made for your students Go Blended is a practical implementation guide for educators interested in getting blended learning off the ground Author Liz Arney is a seasoned developer of blended learning programs at Aspire Public Schools and she also closely collaborates with district and charter leaders from across the country on this work Go Blended offers boots on the ground support for laying the foundation for a blended learning program in our schools and classrooms Throughout the book teachers with blended learning experience share helpful tips and lesson plans to help educators make purposeful choices in using technology to fulfill students needs without becoming an end in itself This useful guide also offers key documents and timelines to support a blended learning implementation and provides step by step practical advice for avoiding mistakes Readers will gain expert insight into both the broad and narrow of blended transition from sweeping concepts like program goals to nitty gritty details like teaching routines around technology use Technology is rapidly changing the landscape of education teacher effectiveness and student achievement are both tied to the ability to adapt to new technology and blended learning has become a hot topic in schools across the nation Go Blended helps school leaders and teachers take their first steps toward blended learning putting them in a better position to continuously adapt as the world changes You ll learn how to Investigate leadership and staff readiness to go blended Learn how to evaluate and purchase the right educational software Keep the program s goals in mind throughout the development process Teach lessons that set students up for success when using classroom technology Tailor the program to the students not the other way around Aspire s impressive track record of high performance along with a growing body of evidence from blended schools across the nation testifies to the reality that incorporating technology into the classroom can improve student outcomes But improved student outcomes will only occur when teachers and administrators intentionally tailor technology and curricula to meet their goals With Go Blended you can be confident that you re focused on the ultimate goal of blended learning increasing student achievement Aspire High science at a university level Learning in Virtual Worlds Sue Gregory, Mark J.W. Lee, Barney Dalgarno, Belinda Tynan, 2016-04-01 Three dimensional 3D immersive virtual worlds have been touted as being capable of facilitating highly interactive engaging multimodal learning experiences Much of the evidence gathered to support these claims has been anecdotal but the potential that these environments hold to solve traditional problems in online and technology mediated education primarily learner isolation and student disengagement has resulted in considerable investments in virtual world platforms like Second Life OpenSimulator and Open Wonderland by both professors and institutions To justify this ongoing and sustained investment institutions and proponents of simulated learning environments must assemble a robust body of evidence that illustrates the most effective use of this powerful learning tool In this authoritative collection a team of international experts outline the emerging trends and developments in the use of 3D virtual worlds for teaching and learning They explore aspects of learner interaction with virtual worlds such as user wayfinding in Second Life communication modes and perceived presence and accessibility issues for elderly or disabled learners They also examine advanced technologies that hold potential for the enhancement of learner immersion and discuss best practices in the design and implementation of virtual world based learning interventions and tasks By evaluating and documenting different methods approaches and strategies the contributors to Learning in Virtual Worlds offer important information and insight to both scholars and practitioners in the field Achieving Inclusive Education in the Caribbean and Beyond Stacey N. J. Blackman, Dennis A. Conrad, Launcelot I. Brown, 2019-05-28 This book offers an international perspective of philosophical conceptual and praxis oriented issues that impinge on achieving education for all students It sheds light on the historical systemic structural organizational and attitudinal barriers that continue to be antithetical to the philosophy and practice of inclusive education within the Caribbean The first section of the book examines how globalized views of inclusion informed by philosophical ideas from the North have influenced and continue to influence the equity in education agenda in the region The second section considers how exclusion and marginalization still occur across selected Caribbean islands It provides both quantitative and qualitative data about the nature and experience of exclusion in selected Caribbean islands the UK and USA The third section tackles the practical realities of transforming education systems in the Caribbean for inclusion In particular it identifies teacher practices as the mainsite of interrogation that needs to be tackled if inclusion is to be successful The fourth and final section examines the contribution of principals and exemplars to the development and advocacy for inclusive education It discusses how educational leadership is understood as well as the role of school principals in making inclusion a reality in schools the challenges experienced and the qualities of education leaders Blended Learning: Educational Innovation for Personalized Learning Simon K. S. Cheung, Lap-Kei Lee, Ivana Simonova, Tomas Kozel, Lam-For Kwok, 2019-06-17 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 12th International Conference on Blended Learning ICBL 2019 held in Hradec Kralove Czech Republic in July 2019 The 28 papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 80

Generative AI and Education B. Mairéad Pratschke, 2024-08-27 This volume addresses the gap in knowledge around generative AI and its applications in education It draws on the recent history of technological innovation and digital pedagogies locating generative AI in the contemporary discourse around education futures It argues that a new hybrid model of education is emerging requiring educational institutions to embed generative AI into course and programme design delivery and assessment It also proposes a shift from a focus on learning as output to learning as a process and explores what that shift might look like Grounded in educational theory it offers actionable pedagogy informed guidance on how to position AI as a collaborator in the construction of learning in a manner that is congruent with the values and aims of education It offers advice based on evidence based digital pedagogy including frameworks for effective teaching and learning with generative AI that enable educators and designers to put these ideas into practice The book also explores the wider context informing this shift connecting narratives from governments and industry leaders on the strategic importance of generative AI and lifelong learning learning agility and future skills that make the case for the integration of competency based assessment into mainstream education Finally going beyond pedagogy and practice it considers some of the broader issues including limitations and ethics and the implications of integrating generative AI into institutional planning and design and includes a sample roadmap for education leaders to start the process of integrating generative AI into their institutions This work approaches the topic of generative AI from the vantage point of educators by addressing themes and concerns that will resonate with professionals in the sector

About Our Schools Mick Waters, Tim Brighouse, 2022-01-05 Foreword by Danny Dorling Through revealing and forthright interviews with 14 secretaries of state from Kenneth Baker to Michael Gove and Gavin Williamson together with many other leading figures in education Tim Brighouse and Mick Waters provide fascinating insights into the various evolutions and revolutions that have taken place in English state education since 1976 In so doing they highlight key areas for improvement and assess where we should go from here to enable teachers and schools to improve the learning and broaden the horizons of each and every one of their pupils whatever their talents challenges advantages or problems Tim and Mick have both spent a lifetime in state provided education first as pupils then as teachers and finally in various leadership and policy making positions both in and out of schools About Our Schools is born out of their shared love for education and their appreciation of how schooling can be a transformative element in the lives of children and young people All royalties from sales of this book will be donated to Barnardo's and the Compassionate Education Foundation
