Associations Synagogues And Congregations Claiming A Place In Ancient Mediterranean Society:

Associations, Synagogues, and Congregations Philip A. Harland, 2003 Ephesus Galatia Troas and Pergamum are familiar names to readers of the New Testament But what made this region such fertile ground for early synagogues and congregations of those who followed Christ How did the earliest churches and synagogues organize themselves How did other voluntary associations operate within the Roman empire How did such organizations relate to the constraints of imperial religion These are some of the questions that Philip Harland addresses in this stimulating look at first century Roman Asia He surveys the various forms of guilds and associations in the eastern Roman empire Asia Minor is one of the primary regions of Paul's journeys described in Acts and it provided the context for several New Testament books especially the Pastoral Epistles 1 Peter and Revelation The author's fresh look at ancient inscriptions reveals new insights about the formation operation and functions of congregations and synagogues within the larger framework of voluntary associations in the Roman world

Group Survival in the Ancient Mediterranean Philip A. Harland, Richard Last, 2020-04-16 Philip A Harland and Richard Last consider the economics of early Christian group life within its social cultural and economic contexts by drawing on extensive epigraphic and archaeological evidence In exploring the informal associations immigrant groups and guilds that dotted the world of the early Christians Harland and Last provide fresh perspective on the question of how Christian assemblies and Judean Jewish gatherings gained necessary resources to pursue their social religious and additional aims By considering both neglected archaeological discoveries and literary evidence the authors analyse financial and material aspects of group life both sources of income and various areas of expenditure Harland and Last then turn to the use of material resources for mutual support of members in various groups including the importance of burial and the practice of interest free loans Christian and Judean evidence is explored throughout this book culminating in a discussion of texts detailing the internal financial life of Christian assemblies as seen in first and second century sources including Paul the Didache Justin Martyr and Tertullian In shedding new light on early Christian financial organisation this volume aids further understanding of how some Christian groups survived and developed in the Greco Roman world

Jewish Cultural Encounters in the Ancient Mediterranean and Near Eastern World Mladen Popović, Myles Schoonover, Marijn Vandenberghe, 2017-01-23 The essays in this volume originate from the Third Qumran Institute Symposium held at the University of Groningen December 2013 Taking the flexible concept of cultural encounter as a starting point the essays in this volume bring together a panoply of approaches to the study of various cultural interactions between the people of ancient Israel Judea and Palestine and people from other parts of the ancient Mediterranean and Near Eastern world In order to study how cultural encounters shaped historical development literary traditions religious practice and political systems the contributors employ a broad spectrum of theoretical positions e.g. hybridity migration frontier studies postcolonialism entangled histories and multilingualism to interpret a diverse set of literary documentary archaeological epigraphic numismatic and iconographic sources Private Associations and Jewish Communities in the Hellenistic and Roman Cities Dr. Benedikt Eckhardt, 2019-07-01 In Private Associations and Jewish Communities in the Hellenistic and Roman Cities Benedikt Eckhardt brings together a group of experts to investigate a problem of historical categorization. Traditionally scholars have either presupposed that Jewish groups were Greco Roman Associations like others or have treated them in isolation from other groups. Attempts to begin a cross disciplinary dialogue about the presuppositions and ultimate aims of the respective approaches have shown that much preliminary work on categories is necessary. This book explores the methodological dividing lines based on the common sense assumption that different questions require different solutions. Re introducing historical differentiation into a field that has been dominated by abstractions it provides the debate with a new foundation. Case studies highlight the problems and advantages of different approaches Synagogues in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods Lutz Doering, Andrew R. Krause, Hermut Löhr, 2020-12-14 The study of ancient Judaism has enjoyed a steep rise in interest and publications in recent decades although the focus has often been on the ideas and beliefs represented in ancient Jewish texts rather than on the daily lives and the material culture of Jews Judaeans and their communities. The nascent institution of the synagogue formed an increasingly important venue for communal gathering and daily or weekly practice. This collection of essays brings together a broad spectrum of new archaeological and textual data with various emergent theories and interpretative methods in order to address the need to understand the place of the synagogue in the daily and weekly procedures, community frameworks and theological structures in which Judaeans, Galileans and Jewish people in the Diaspora lived and gathered. The interdisciplinary studies will be of great significance for anyone studying ancient Jewish belief, practice and community formation Religious Identities in Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages, 2021-11-08 Religious Identities in Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages contains eight thought provoking articles that discuss the formation of antique and early medieval religious identities and ideas in rabbinic Judaism, early Christianity, Islam and Greco Roman culture. The articles question the artificial disciplinary and conceptual boundaries between traditions. Instead they stress their shared nature. The collection is a result of discussions at the international symposium Ideas and Identities in Late Antiquity: Jews, Christians and Muslims at the Helsinki Collegium for Advanced Studies on March 12-13, 2018 Kingdom Rhetoric T. Michael W. Halcomb, 2013-09-01 This book, written to honor Ben Witherington III, is a collaborative effort from the New Testament department at Asbury Theological Seminary. Essays are offered by five New Testament faculty and five New Testament students who have completed or are currently in the process of completing the PhD program. It is our hope that readers of this volume, which is divided into five sections and covers the breadth of the New Testament canon, will be encouraged in their own explorations and research of the New Testament, much as Ben and his works have encouraged us. For those who know Ben, they will know the last year or so has been quite a difficult one for him and his family. On Wednesday, January 11, 2012, Christy Ann, the daughter of Ben and Ann, passed on unexpectedly. Today there exists a scholarship fund in Christy's name The Christy Ann Witherington Scholarship Fund at Asbury Theological Seminary and readers should be aware that 100 percent of the proceeds from this book will go to that scholarship fund to assist female students in Asbury's biblical studies program Contributors David R Bauer Joseph R Dongell T Michael W Halcomb Craig S Keener Robert Brian Kidwell Susann Liubinskas Fredrick J Long Jason A Myers Judith Odor Ruth Anne Reese The Role of the Synagogue in the Aims of Jesus Jordan J. Ryan, 2017-11-15 Reviewing what we now know about actual synagogues in the land of Israel and their public role in Jewish life and culture Jordan J Ryan shows that Gospel narratives placed in synagogues accurately reflect the ancient synagogue setting He argues for the historical plausibility of the setting of these narratives and suggests that synagogue research must be a starting point for their interpretation He further argues that Jesus's efforts at the restoration of Israel were intentionally aimed at the synagogue as an institution of public and political life Building Jewish in the Roman East Peter Richardson, 2005-02-01 Archaeology has unearthed the glories of ancient Jewish buildings throughout the Mediterranean But what has remained shrouded is what these buildings meant Building Jewish first surveys the architecture of small rural villages in the Galilee in the early Roman period before examining the development of synagogues as Jewish associations Finally Building Jewish explores Jerusalem's flurry of building activity under Herod the Great in the first century BCE Richardson's careful work not only documents the culture that forms the background to any study of Second Temple Judaism and early Christianity but he also succeeds in demonstrating how architecture itself like a text conveys meaning and thus directly illuminates daily life and religious thought and practice in the ancient world The Eerdmans Dictionary of Early Judaism John J. Collins, Daniel C. Harlow, 2010-11-11 The Dictionary of Early Judaism is the first reference work devoted exclusively to Second Temple Judaism fourth century b c e through second century c e The first section of this substantive and incredible work contains thirteen major essays that attempt to synthesize major aspects of Judaism in the period between Alexander and Hadrian The second and significantly longer section offers 520 entries arranged alphabetically Many of these entries have cross references and all have select bibliographies Equal attention is given to literary and nonliterary i e archaeological and epigraphic evidence and New Testament writings are included as evidence for Judaism in the first century c e Several entries also give pertinent information on the Hebrew Bible The Dictionary of Early Judaism is intended to not only meet the needs of scholars and students at which it succeeds admirably but also to provide accessible information for the general reader It is ecumenical and international in character bringing together nearly 270 authors from as many as twenty countries and including Jews Christians and scholars of no religious affiliation
