Parenthood between Generations Siân Pooley, Kaveri Qureshi, 2016-04-01 Recent literature has identified modern parenting as an expert led practice one which begins with pre pregnancy decisions entails distinct types of intimate relationships places intense burdens on mothers and increasingly on fathers too Exploring within diverse historical and global contexts how men and women make and break relations between generations when becoming parents this volume brings together innovative qualitative research by anthropologists historians and sociologists The chapters focus tightly on inter generational transmission and demonstrate its importance for understanding how people become parents and rear children

Family Love in the Diaspora Mary Chamberlain, 2017-07-05 Colonial social policy in the British West Indies from the nineteenth century onward assumed that black families lacked morals structure and men a void that explained poverty and lack of citizenship African Caribbean families appeared as the mirror opposite of the ideal family advocated by the white colonial authorities Yet contrary to this image what provided continuity in the period and contributed to survival was in fact the strength of family connections their inclusivity and support This study is based on 150 life story narratives across three generations of forty five families who originated in the former British West Indies The author focuses on the particular axes of Caribbean peoples from the former British colonies of Jamaica Trinidad and Tobago and Barbados and Great Britain Divided into four parts the chapters within each present an oral history of migrant African Caribbean families demonstrating the varieties organization and dynamics of family through their memories and narratives It traces the evolution of Caribbean life argues how the family can be seen as the tool that helps transmit and transform historical mentalities examines the dynamics of family life and makes comparisons with Indo Caribbean families Above all this is a story of families that evolved against the odds of slavery and poverty to form a distinct Creole form through which much of the social history of the English speaking Caribbean is refracted Family Love in the Diaspora offers an important new perspective on African Caribbean families their history and the problems they face for now and the future It offers a long overdue historical dimension to the debates on Caribbean families

Body Counts Yen Le Espiritu, 2014-08-23 Body Counts The Vietnam War and Militarized Refugees examines how the Vietnam War has continued to serve as a stage for the shoring up of American imperialist adventure and for the re production of American and Vietnamese American identities Focusing on the politics of war memory and commemoration this book retheorizes the connections among history memory and power and refashions the fields of American studies Asian American studies and refugee studies not around the narratives of American exceptionalism immigration and transnationalism but around the crucial issues of war race and violence and the history and memories that are forged in the aftermath of war At the same time the book moves decisively away from the damage centered approach that pathologizes loss and trauma by detailing how first and second generation Vietnamese have created alternative memories and epistemologies that challenge the established public narratives of the Vietnam War and Vietnamese people Explicitly interdisciplinary Body Counts moves between the humanities and social sciences drawing on historical ethnographic cultural and virtual evidence in order to illuminate the places where Vietnamese refugees have managed to conjure up social public and collective remembering

Preparing the Next Generation of Oral Historians Barry A. Lanman, Laura M. Wendling, 2006-05-11 Preparing the Next Generation of Oral Historians is an invaluable resource to educators seeking to bring history alive for students at all levels Filled with insightful reflections on teaching oral history it offers practical suggestions for educators seeking to create curricula

The Holocaust as Active Memory Marie Louise Seeberg, Irene Levin, Claudia Lenz, 2016-03-09 The ways in which memories of the Holocaust have been communicated represented and used have changed dramatically over the years From such memories being neglected and silenced in most of Europe until the 1970s each country has subsequently gone through a process of cultural political and pedagogical awareness rising This culminated in the Stockholm conference on Holocaust commemoration in 2000 which resulted in the constitution of a task force dedicated to transmitting and teaching knowledge and awareness about the Holocaust on a global scale The silence surrounding private memories of the Holocaust has also been challenged in many families What are the catalysts that trigger a change from silence to discussion of the Holocaust What happens when we talk its invisibility away How are memories of the Holocaust reflected in different social environments Who asks questions about memories of the Holocaust and which answers do they find at which point in time and from which past and present positions related to their societies and to the phenomenon in question This book highlights the contexts in which such questions are asked By introducing the concept of active memory this book contributes to recent developments in memory studies where memory is increasingly viewed not in isolation but as a dynamic and relational part of human lives
