Assessment Of Aphasia Dn Related Disorders Book Only Goodglass:

The Assessment of Aphasia and Related Disorders Harold Goodglass, Edith Kaplan, Barbara Barresi, 2001 The Assessment of Aphasia and Related Disorders Harold Goodglass, Edith Kaplan, 1972 The Assessment of Aphasia and Related Disorders Harold Goodglass, Edith Kaplan, 1972 Aphasiology Robert T. Wertz, Joseph R. Duffy, 2001-03-15

Frederic L. Darley was the consummate clinical scientist. One cannot peruse the literature on neurogenic communication disorders without constantly encountering his name, his work, his influence. His work was monumental. The contributors of the seven papers in this issue of Aphasiology have long and impressive track records as researchers and clinicians. Their papers are important because not only do they reflect how Darley's work has influenced diagnostic and patient management decisions, but in some cases the contributors take issue with and/or expand on his work. This ability to question existing evidence was a trait that Fred Darley instilled in his students. Equally important is that each paper tells us something about him as a person, as a mentor who shaped careers and about the love and respect his students and colleagues had for him.

The Boston Process Approach to Neuropsychological Assessment Lee Ashendorf, PhD, Rod Swenson, David Libon, 2013-08-15

The Boston Process Approach to neuropsychological assessment, advanced by Edith Kaplan, has a long and well-respected history in the field. However, its theoretical and empirical support has not previously been assembled in an easily accessible format. This volume fills that void by compiling the historical, empirical, and practical teachings of the Process Approach. The reader will find a detailed history of the precursors to this model of thought, its development through its proponents such as Harold Goodglass, Nelson Butters, Laird Cermak, and Norman Geschwind, and its continuing legacy. The second section provides a guide to applying the Boston Process Approach to some of the field's most commonly used measures, such as the various Wechsler Intelligence Scales, the Trail Making Test, the California Verbal Learning Test, and the Boston Naming Test. Here, the reader will find a detailed history of the empirical evidence for test administration and interpretation using Boston Process Approach tenets. The final section of the book provides various perspectives on the implementation of the Boston Process Approach in various clinical and research settings and with specialized populations.

The Autumn Brain Seminars Edison K. Miyawaki M.D., 2021-11-16

In 2018 and 2019, a teacher penned short books whose aim was to instruct neuroanatomy not in the manner of textbooks but rather by exploring honest questions raised in the study of human brain structure. Why is there a crossed organization of pathways? Why has the frontal brain been implicated in language? How does one navigate the brainstem as if in a very familiar place? In this first of two volumes, Miyawaki addresses the three queries in a new edition of his prior work. The Autumn Brain Seminars is a summation of his decades of teaching in hospitals and classrooms.
