Regulating the End of Life Death Rights is a collection of cutting edge chapters on assisted dying and euthanasia written by leading authors in the field Providing an overview of current regulation on assisted dying and euthanasia both in the UK and internationally this book also addresses the associated debates on ethical moral and rights issues It considers whether just as there is a right to life there should also be a right to death especially in the context of unbearable human suffering The unintended consequences of prohibitions on assisted dying and euthanasia are explored and the argument put forward that knowing one can choose when and how one dies can be life extending rather than life limiting Key critiques from feminist and disability studies are addressed The overarching theme of the collection is that death is an embodied right which we should be entitled to exercise with appropriate safeguards as and when we choose Making a novel contribution to the debate on assisted dying this interdisciplinary book will appeal to those with relevant interests in law socio legal studies applied ethics medical ethics politics philosophy and sociology Research Handbook on Voluntary Assisted Dying Law, Regulation and Practice Ben P. White,2025-09-10 This unique Research Handbook examines voluntary assisted dying VAD laws through the lens of regulatory theory It sheds light on interdisciplinary perspectives and outlines policy debates around the revision and implementation of these laws Ben P White brings together global experts to discuss the law and practice of VAD in all permitting jurisdictions This title contains one or more Open Access chapters International Perspectives on End-of-Life Law Reform Ben P. White,Lindy Willmott,2021-12-09 Addresses the vexed question of how and why reform of end of life law occurs drawing on ten international case studies Euthanasia and Law in Europe John Griffiths,Heleen Weyers,Maurice Adams,2008-05-21 This book is a successor to J Griffiths A Bood and H Weyers Euthanasia and Law in the Netherlands Amsterdam University Press 1998 which was widely praised for its thoroughness clarity and accuracy The new book emphasises recent legal developments and new research and has been expanded to include a full treatment of Belgium where since 2002 euthanasia has also become legal The book also includes descriptions written by local specialists of the legal situation and what is known about actual practice in a number of other European countries England and Wales France Italy Scandinavia Spain Switzerland The book strives for as complete and dispassionate a description of the situation as possible It covers in detail the substantive law applicable to euthanasia physician assisted suicide withholding and withdrawing treatment use of pain relief in potentially lethal doses palliative and terminal sedation and termination of life without a request in particular in the case of newborn babies the process of legal development that has led to the current state of the law the system of legal control and its operation in practice the results of empirical research concerning actual medical practice A concluding part deals with some general questions that arise out of the material presented Is the

legalisation of euthanasia an example of the decline of law or should it on the contrary be seen as part and parcel of the increasing juridification of the doctor patient relationship Does the Dutch experience with legalised euthanasia support the idea of a slippery slope toward a situation in which life especially of the more vulnerable members of society is less effectively protected Is it possible to explain and to predict when a society will decide to legalise euthanasia

Assisted Suicide and the European Convention on Human Rights Stevie Martin, 2021-04-12 Locating assisted suicide within the broader medical end of life context and drawing on the empirical data available from the increasing number of permissive jurisdictions this book provides a novel examination of the human rights implications of the prohibition on assisted suicide in England and Wales and beyond Assisted suicide is a contentious topic and one which has been the subject of judicial and academic debate internationally The central objective of the book is to approach the question of the ban s compatibility with the European Convention on Human Rights afresh freed from the constraints of the existing case law and its erroneous approach to the legal issues and selective reliance on empirical data The book also examines the compatibility of the ban on assisted suicide with rights which have either been erroneously disregarded or not considered by either the domestic courts or the European Court of Human Rights Having regard to human rights jurisprudence more broadly including in the context of abortion the research and analysis undertaken here demonstrates that the ban on assisted suicide violates the rights of a significant number of individuals to life to freedom from torture or inhuman or degrading treatment and to private life Such analysis does not depend on a strained or contrived approach to the rights at issue Rather the conclusions flow naturally from a coherent logical application of the established principles governing those rights While the focus of the book is the Suicide Act 1961 the conclusions reached have implications beyond England and Wales including for the other devolved jurisdictions and international jurisdictions Beyond courts and legislators it will be a valuable resource for students of human rights and medical law as well as medical and legal practitioners and academics working in human rights and end of life care

Is there a Christian Case for Assisted Dying Paul Badham, 2009-01-23 Issues surrounding euthanasia and assisted dying continue to hit the headlines with strong feelings on both sides In Is There a Christian Case for Assisted Dying Paul Badham makes a significant and controversial contribution to this important and current debate

Assisted Suicide: The Liberal, Humanist Case Against Legalization K. Yuill, 2013-03-05 This book presents an atheistic case against the legalization of assisted suicide Critical of both sides of the argument it questions the assumptions behind the discussion Yuill shows that our attitudes towards suicide not euthanasia are most important to our attitudes towards assisted suicide
