Golomski,2018-06-04 Contemporary forms of living and dying in Swaziland cannot be understood apart from the global HIV AIDS pandemic according to anthropologist Casey Golomski In Africa s last absolute monarchy the story of 15 years of global collaboration in treatment and intervention is also one of ordinary people facing the work of caring for the sick and dying and burying the dead Golomski s ethnography shows how AIDS posed challenging questions about the value of life culture and materiality to drive new forms and practices for funerals Many of these forms and practices newly catered funeral feasts an expanded market for life insurance and the kingdom s first crematorium are now conspicuous across the landscape and culturally disruptive in a highly traditionalist setting This powerful and original account details how these new matters of death dying and funerals have become entrenched in peoples everyday lives and become part of a quest to create dignity in the wake of a devastating epidemic Soil Degradation and Restoration in Africa Rattan Lal,B. A. Stewart,2019-07-09 Soil degradation is a widespread problem in Africa resulting in decreased agricultural productivity while demand for food continues to increase Degradation is caused by accelerated erosion acidification contamination depletion of soil organic matter and plant nutrients and salinization The major cause of soil degradation in Africa is uncontrolled and excessive grazing in the savanna regions followed by deforestation and the use of inappropriate and extractive farming practices Perpetual neglect of the health of soils in Africa can exacerbate the already serious problems of food and nutritional insecurity and environmental degradation Food and nutritional security of the growing population of Africa can only be achieved if degraded soils are restored and soils of agroecosystems are managed prudently and sustainably Ignoring soils and taking the fragile finite and precious soil resources for granted is the principal cause of poverty hunger and environmental degradation The downward spiral must be reversed through soil restoration measures based on translating science into action This book describes the soils of Africa processes of soil degradation extent and severity of soil degradation and the impacts of degradation processes on food and nutritional security Features Explores the extent and severity of soil degradation in Africa Analyzes the cause effect relationship between anthropogenic activities and soil degradation Reviews processes of soil degradation in Africa including erosion salinization nutrient depletion and decline of soil organic matter Addresses the effect of climate change on soil degradation in Africa Explains how soil degradation causes food and nutritional insecurity Part of the Advances in Soil Sciences series this volume is specifically devoted to the processes and factors that cause soil degradation and the challenges and potential for remediation and restoration of soil health in Africa

Zonal Biomes of Southern Africa Ladislav Mucina, Michael C. Rutherford, 2024-09-28 This book is the first comprehensive account of large scale ecosystems biomes of Southern Africa defined as area south of the Kunene and Zambezi Rivers It addresses the diversity of biomes in one of the most biodiverse regions of the world comprising South Africa Namibia Botswana Zimbabwe southern part of Mozambique Eswatini and Lesotho It has adopted a novel hierarchical biome classification approach The biomes at four levels of complexity are identified described and mapped using modern GIS assisted mapping technology The structure of the book and its comprehensive nature makes this product of prime interest to teachers and students of all tertiary education levels as well as to scientists in the fields of ecology biodiversity science and bioclimatology It is poised to serve as a major reference book and handbook for the users in these scientific fields Lion's Share Veit Erlmann, 2022-10-28 In the aftermath of apartheid South Africa undertook an ambitious revision of its intellectual property system In Lion's Share Veit Erlmann traces the role of copyright law in this process and its impact on the South African music industry Although the South African government tied the reform to its postapartheid agenda of redistributive justice and a turn to a postindustrial knowledge economy Erlmann shows how the persistence of structural racism and Euro modernist conceptions of copyright threaten the viability of the reform project In case studies ranging from antipiracy police raids and the crafting of legislation to protect indigenous expressive practices to the landmark lawsuit against Disney for its appropriation of Solomon Linda's song Mbube for its hit The Lion Sleeps Tonight from The Lion King Erlmann follows the intricacies of musical copyright through the criminal justice system parliamentary committees and the offices of a music licensing and royalty organization Throughout he demonstrates how copyright law is inextricably entwined with race popular music postcolonial governance indigenous rights and the struggle to create a more equitable society
