Beginning Of The End:

Fifteen Lectures On Traditional Chinese Culture Peng-cheng Kung, 2022-01-10 This book is edited based on a series of lectures on Chinese cultural history delivered at the Peking University in 2004. It stands out with its distinctive methodology and unique stand and is popular with readers with 17 reprints for the Chinese edition since 2006. Before the 1980s, traditional culture was often the target of criticisms and put in a negative light in China. After the 1980s, due to the belief that traditional culture can contribute to modernization, people decided to take its essence and discard its dregs. As of today, most books on this theme have been written in accordance with this principle. However, in this book, the author argues that many problems have emerged from the modernization of the Western society and thus the need for reflection and re-examining. Traditional Chinese culture is a source for comparison and reflection. As such, when we discuss traditional culture nowadays, not only should we excavate its long hidden meanings but we should also develop contrastive resources to facilitate our collaborative development in the future. The discussions in this book adopt a vertical structure that begins with how Chinese define a human, followed by topics on the human body, Qi, food, male and female, home, and state, the relationship between heaven and human beings, ritual systems, historical consciousness, thinking patterns, the art of expressing sentiments, commitments to the politics of virtues and achievements, and cultural practices. In every chapter, there is also a horizontal method of comparison on Chinese, Western, and Indian cultures to foreground the particularities and advantages of the Chinese culture. Apart from elaborating on the major characteristics of traditional Chinese culture, there is also a discussion on how the modern disdain for and misunderstandings of the traditional culture originated from the West. The author also elaborates on Montesquieu's views of China and the various misconceptions and misunderstandings of the traditional Chinese legal systems. Finally, it ends with the author's thoughts on the revitalization of the Chinese civilization. Holy

Quran's Judgement ? Part 2 M.S.M Abdullah (Rah), 2013 The Spiritual Leader explains with copious evidence the views held by other religions too that the truth is La Ilaha Illallah, that being the lifeline of Tawheed, and that there is no Ilah but Allah. He has thrown a challenge to anyone who can disprove this truth, offering a handsome reward. Until now, no one has come forward to take up his challenge. Allah is an arbitrary name and it does not point to something static or stationary. This name denotes something beyond time and space and the reach of human knowledge and has manifested as the whole universe. If one becomes aware of this truth, peace and tranquility will be eternal in his heart and mind. Introducing Python Bill Lubanovic, 2019-11-06 Easy to understand and fun to read, this updated edition of Introducing Python is ideal for beginning programmers as well as those new to the language. The Concept of History Dmitri Nikulin, 2017-01-26 The Concept of History reflects on the presuppositions behind the contemporary understanding of history that often remain implicit and not spelled out It is a critique of the modern understanding of history that presents it as universal and teleological progressively moving forward to an end Although few contemporary philosophers and historians maintain the view that there is strict universality and teleology in history the remnants of these positions still affect our understanding of history But if history is not universal and singular evolving toward an objective universal end it should be possible to admit of multiple histories some of which we appropriate as our own An another important aspect of this book is that it provides an account of history that is itself both historical and rooted in attempts to narrate and explain history from its inception in antiquity The book seeks to establish features or constituents of history that might be found in any historical account and might themselves be considered historical invariants in history

Ecology, behaviour and conservation of the charrs, genus Salvelinus Pierre Magnan, Céline Audet, Hélène Glémet, Michel Legault, Marco A. Rodríguez, Eric B. Taylor, 2002-07-31

Salvelinus species are one of the most thoroughly studied groups of fishes. Many reasons explain this intense interest in charr biology. Charrs have a Holarctic distribution encompassing many Asian, North American and European countries and occupy diverse marine and freshwater environments. Furthermore, the current distribution of charr includes areas that were directly influenced by climate and topographic change associated with the many Pleistocene glaciations. Undoubtedly, these conditions have promoted much of the tremendous morphological, ecological and genetic variability and plasticity within Salvelinus species, and they make charr very good models to study evolutionary processes in action. Many charr species also exhibit demographic characteristics such as slow growth, late maturity and life in extreme environments that may increase their susceptibility to extinction from habitat changes and overexploitation, especially in depauperate aquatic habitats. This vulnerability makes understanding their biology of great relevance to biodiversity and conservation. Finally, charr are of great cultural, commercial and recreational significance to many communities, and their intimate linkage with human societies has stimulated much interest in this enigmatic genus. This volume comprises a selection of papers presented at the fourth International Charr Symposium held in Trois Rivières, Québec, Canada, from 26 June to 1 July 2000. It includes 31 papers on ecological interactions and behaviour, trophic polymorphism, movement and migration, ecophysiology and evolutionary genetics, ecological parasitology, environmental stress and conservation. These studies cannot cover all recent developments in the ecology, behaviour and conservation of Salvelinus species, but collecting them into a special volume should bring attention to current research on this important genus and stimulate further work on Salvelinus species.
